3 Doctors Visit Here To Study Health Plan

Three visiting doctors from far-flung parts of the world are in Kingston for a three-day study of Ulster County health and medical facilities.

They are:

Dr. P. Arumanayagam of Colombo, Ceylon, who has been studying for the past year at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Leon Horing of Montevideo, Uruguay, who is completing a year's work at Harvard University.

Dr. Leopoldo Figueiredo of Lisbon, Portugal, completing a year's study at Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Arumanayagam, whose chief interest is epidemiology (study and treatment of epidemics), is here on a fellowship offered by the World Health Organization.

Dr. Horing, who will teach preventive medicine at a Montevideo College, is here on a fellowship from the Uruguayan government.

Dr. Figueiredo, who will return to his position as Lisbon health officer, has an ICA fellowship—International Cooperation Administration, a division of the United States Public Health Service. He has been studying public health administration at Johns Hopkins.

With Dr. Figueiredo is his attractive wife.

Dr. and Mrs. Figueiredo came to the United States last fall by freighter—a 21 day trip. They found it slow, pleasant and relaxing, but they are planning to fly back.

The three gentlemen came to Kingston from Albany where they spent some time with officials of the State Health Department.

While in Kingston they will be the guests of the Ulster County Public Health Department, of which Dr. Dudley Hargrave is commissioner. They are staying at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Dr. Arumanayagam, who has a wife and four children waiting for him in Ceylon, also visited the United States in 1951 at (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Ike Backs Adams, Admits His Relations Imprudent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that Sherman Adams was imprudent in his relations with Bernard Goldfine but "I need him" to continue as top presidential aide.

Eisenhower made it plain at a news conference that he has no intention of firing Adams, although he did not say that in so many words.

In anticipation that the President would talk about the hottest Washington subject of the moment, newsmen were packed into the conference room.

At the outset, Eisenhower announced he had a statement he wanted to read.

Then, reading from typewritten large cards, Eisenhower said Adams had been imprudent, as Adams himself acknowledged in testimony Tuesday before a House investigating committee.

Despite that imprudence, Eisenhower said, he has reached these personal conclusions:

"1. I believe that the presentation made by Gov. Adams to the congressional committee Tuesday truthfully represents the pertinent facts.

"2. I personally like Gov. Adams.

"3. I admire his abilities.

"4. I respect him because of his personal and official integrity.

"5. I need him."

Eisenhower then went on to say:

"Admitting the lack of that careful prudence in this incident that Gov. Adams Tuesday re-

Parley Here Tonight on Fete Plans

Representatives from five Hudson Valley counties will meet here tonight to further plans for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration next year.

This organization meeting follows an informal conference three weeks ago when it was decided to form a Hudson Valley Council composed of at least two representatives from each county and one from West Point. The five counties are Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange and Ulster.

To Coordinate Steps

The Council will promote and coordinate plans for the Hudson Valley phase of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration, as well as establishing a central point at which dates of all events will be recorded.

County representatives were invited to the original conference by Albert Kurdt, Kingston Hudson-Champlain Committee chairman, appointed by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, and Harry Rigby Jr., Ulster County chairman. At this conference it was decided to form the Valley Council.

A letter received by Albert Kurdt from Columbia County and publicity after a meeting of the Dutchess County Hudson-Champlain group recently indicated a grave concern over the delay in the completion of the State Commission being established to promote historic events in 1959.

Concerned Over Delay

Kurdt said that this delay is also holding up a meeting of the full Kingston Committee. "The executive committee has had several meetings," he said, "and is prepared to present tentative plans to the full committee as soon as it is known how the State Commission will function and whether or not it will sponsor any special events or major features."

Both the county and the town of Kingston are seeking renovation, Supervisor Roger Mabie of Esopus presented a resolution in memory of members of the Democratic party who have died since the last annual convention.

Chairman Kelly called on the Democrats to return Governor Harriman to office and predicted the party would gain control of the board of supervisors. He asked for party unity to bring these things about.

The spirit of unity prevailed during the early part of the evening only to blossom out in unkind words and challenges, which at times became quite personal as the evening progressed.

First Rift Occurs

The first rift in the evening's order of business came when Justice of the Peace William P. Curran of Rosendale presented the name of Ralph Gabrielli of the Town of New Paltz as candidate for district attorney.

Curran said the office was "presently in the forefront, and all eyes are fixed upon it." He said the governor had found it necessary to send a special prosecutor here to investigate "vile and rank corruption, which has and still continues to exist here."

He said a corrupt district attorney "can pigeon-hole indictments, quash investigations, prevent the functions of the Grand Jury and in simple words tell them when not to indict."

Valley Is Cited as Needy Area Planning Essential To Growth Today

The daylong conference of state and national housing officials at Colonial Gardens Tuesday was highlighted by two major addresses—those by State Housing Commissioner Joseph P. McMurray and Regional Administrator Walter S. Fried of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency—and a statement by Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston that he was submitting to the Common Council a request for an immediate survey for an urban renewal development plan.

George E. Yerry Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority introduced Radel to the group of some 60 visiting officials.

Site Is Main Block

The mayor pointed out that the previous administration had proposed such a survey and that it had been adopted Kingston would have urban renewal now. It was no fault of the past administration of Frederick H. Stang that it was not adopted, he stated.

Democratic councilmen, in the minority, two years ago, indicated they favored housing or urban renewal, but wanted a Sixth Ward site rather than one in Kingman Park, which was generally approved by the administration. They opposed the measure as presented.

The Sixth Ward site had been cleared as a phase of the Colonial Gardens housing project. Comprehensive planning is required before urban development can begin, and since the council last year failed to approve a bond issue for hiring of a planning consultant, urban renewal could not start.

Story of Vote

Nine votes were needed. Six Democrats and Alderman William S. Keyser (R) Second Ward, voted for it, and six Republicans opposed.

McMurray told the Hudson Valley-Westchester Chapter, of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials that more public housing and slum clearance for private redevelopment were needed to restore the Hudson Valley towns and small cities to their former prosperity.

Worse Than Slums

He said that recent surveys for his division had found housing conditions in Poughkeepsie, Croton, Hudson, Ramapo township and other communities "worse than anything in big-city slums."

Antagonism to public housing was originally stronger in smaller communities than in big cities, McMurray said. This antagonism vanished in most cases after a community got its first project.

He pointed out that in some of those communities "we found semi-primitive living conditions no modern society should countenance. We found families still using out-houses, their only source of water outdoor wells. We found people living in overcrowded frame hovels that are fire-traps of the most dangerous kind. We found altogether too many wood and coal stoves still

Central Can Cut 23 Trains, Adirondack Raise Its Fares

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad today won permission to drop all passenger service on its West Shore Line except for nine commuter trains between West Haverstraw and Weehawken, N. J.

The Public Service Commission authorized the railroad to put the new schedule into effect upon 10 days' notice to the public.

It will eliminate all passenger service on the line between Albany and West Haverstraw. The Central, however, offers regular service on its main line, running from New York City through Albany to Buffalo.

The PSC also granted Adirondack Transit Lines Inc. permission to raise fares on most of its inter-city bus runs by about 10 per cent, effective Friday. The company serves numerous communities in Eastern and Northern New York.

The New York Central sought to abandon all passenger service on the West Shore Line, which was established back in the 1800's as a competitor of the Central and later absorbed by the Central.

However, the Central agreed to run nine trains in each direction during rush hours to accommodate commuters to New York City.

The Adirondack Lines operates buses to Suffern, Kingston, Albany, Tupper Lake, Plattsburgh, Malone, Massena and Oneonta. The Boyer Bus Line of Malone, which operates the Malone-Massena run on a lease from Adirondack, was allowed to raise its fares by 10 per cent the same day.

The PSC said its order would not affect Adirondack's service in New Jersey or its through trip between Kingston and Oneonta.

The bus company and the railroad pleaded they were suffering financial losses on their operations because of declining patronage.

The New York Central now operates 21 trains from Weehawken north to West Haverstraw, Newburgh, Kingston or Albany and 20 trains south from these cities.

Today's order permits the railroad, in effect, to drop 23 trains entirely. Some are operated only on Saturdays and Sundays.

In September, 1956, the railroad was authorized to abandon 10 passenger trains on the line. But the Central said its losses continued, amounting to $1,360,000 a year.

Overflow Democratic Convention Chooses Slate, Contests Develop

At a long and rebellious session of the Ulster County Democratic County Committee Tuesday evening, which at times tested the ability of County Chairman William A. Kelly to keep the largely attended convention under control, the following slate of candidates was recommended to the enrolled Democratic voters:

Christopher D. Morris, Hurley, Member of Congress.

Harriet Allen Kerr, New Paltz, State Senator.

John J. Gaffney, Highland, Member of Assembly.

John J. Schick, Kingston, District Attorney.

Joseph J. Koenig, Kingston, County Treasurer.

Dr. Jacob R. Moss, Hurley, Coroner.

John J. McCourt, Marlborough, Justice of the Supreme Court.

The unofficial Democratic convention got off to a serene start with County Chairman William A. Kelly presiding and Secretary Norman Kellar calling the roll of delegates.

Harriman Lauded

After a resolution presented by Abraham Streifer of Hurley, extolling the virtues of Governor Harriman who is seeking re-election, Supervisor Roger Mabie of Esopus presented a resolution in memory of members of the Democratic party who have died since the last annual convention.

Chairman Kelly called on the Democrats to return Governor Harriman to office and predicted the party would gain control of the board of supervisors. He asked for party unity to bring these things about.

The spirit of unity prevailed during the early part of the evening only to blossom out in unkind words and challenges, which at times became quite personal as the evening progressed.

First Rift Occurs

The first rift in the evening's order of business came when Justice of the Peace William P. Curran of Rosendale presented the name of Ralph Gabrielli of the Town of New Paltz as candidate for district attorney.

Ralph Gabrielli of New Paltz, New York City practicing attorney, he said his candidate had resided in Ulster County since 1922 and has practiced law for 29 years.

Joseph Reid of Rosendale, who prior to the convention had expressed opposition to the possible candidacy of former Assistant District Attorney John J. Schick of Kingston, because Schick had previously been an enrolled Republican, seconded the nomination of Gabrielli.

Joseph Carroll of Hurley remarked he could not go along with the nomination of Schick, whose name had been presented by former County Attorney and former Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig, Carroll and several others seconded the nomination of Gabrielli.

Says Schick Qualified

In presenting the name of John J. Schick, Ewig referred to him as a former resident of the Town of Esopus and now a resident of Kingston. He called attention to "indifference" in the office at the present time which had been disclosed by the Reuter Commission and said Schick would be a "fearless and willing" prosecutor who had served in the office and was presently Special City Judge in Kingston.

Francis Martocci was the principal seconder of the Schick nomination with former Supervisor Francis J. O'Neill of the 13th Ward, William Eismann of Rosendale, Supervisor John J. Gaffney of Lloyd, Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston, Anne Ashdown of the Third Ward and President of the Women's Democratic Club, City Clerk Raymond J. McDrew, Assessor Sam Mann, William Mahoney, the city chairman, Harold Kay the present alderman-at-large and many supervisors and others totaling about 40 seconded the nomination of Schick.

Different Views

Nomination of Schick touched off the revolt on the grounds he had not been a Democratic party worker long enough. Others defended the nomination on (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Car Insurance Firms Win Hearing to Plug Increase

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Insurance companies have won a new hearing in their bid to boost automobile liability premiums in New York State by 12 million dollars a year.

The Appellate Division, third department, held unanimously Tuesday that the state insurance superintendent failed to support his rejection of the increase last January. The judges ordered him to review the case and give more specific reasons.

However, they gave no opinion on whether such an increase was warranted.

The insurance superintendent at the time was Leffert Holz. Holz since has been succeeded by his top aide, Julius S. Wikler.

In New York City, Samuel A. Hirshowitz, an assistant attorney general who handled the state's case, said he did not know yet whether the state would appeal.

Hirshowitz said he would study the decision and then confer with Wikler.

The court's opinion was written by Justice James Gibson. "There is no substantial evidence to support a finding that no increase is necessary to render the rates adequate," Gibson declared.

He said the nature of such cases "served to point up very sharply indeed the clear necessity for specific findings upon the factual issues."

"Such findings are necessary in aid of intelligent judicial review."

The appeal was brought by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau. They contended that Holz had abused his power and had acted arbitrarily in rejecting the boost.

The state argued that auto insurance rates in New York were the highest in the country. It disputed the insurance firms' claim they had lost 25 million dollars in underwriting policies last year.

Highland Area Blast Fatal To Man, Shatters Farmhouse

HIGHLAND, N. Y. (AP) — A mysterious blast shattered a frame farmhouse near here early today and the wreckage caught fire.

A man identified as the owner, Michael DeKalbo, was found dead in the debris after firemen extinguished the flames.

DeKalbo was a farmer and vegetable dealer. His home was located on Route 9W about two miles south of Highland in Ulster County.

The force of the blast was so great that a woman in a house about 500 feet away was blown out of a chair. Debris was flung 400 to 500 feet, some of it into Route 9W.

Neighbors said DeKalbo's home "just blew apart."

Neighbors said DeKalbo's wife left about two weeks ago on a trip to Europe and that he had been living alone since then.

Authorities were investigating in an effort to determine the cause of the blast.

Urban Plan Program Is Requested

City's Plight Is Cited in Letter

Action on the city's street repair program was again delayed by the Common Council last night, but it was asked to reconsider planning toward an urban renewal project, to move against use of amplification units by "private hucksters," and to act for a cleaner city.

Street repair will be aired again June 24, when the aldermen will be asked to consider authorizing $161,500 to cover costs. Of the sum, $150,000 would be earmarked for major rebuilding of streets, and $11,500 for minor repairs.

Ask Time for Study

Alderman James K. Ryan (D) 10th Ward, majority leader, and chairman of the finance committee, said that minority members asked for another week for consideration of street repair, because details of the proposed program were presented only a day before the meeting.

Listing of streets to be rebuilt had been completed prior to the regular meeting June 3, but preparation of papers pertinent to the bond issue was not completed in time to present all details to the aldermen more than a day in advance of last night's recessed meeting.

Each alderman was asked by Mayor Edwin F. Radel to list two streets in his ward most in need of repair. In some instances, where streets were short, more than two were listed. The streets named, the mayor said, would have priority.

Cites Planning Need

Mayor Radel sent to the aldermen a copy of a letter which he had written to the planning board. He noted that Democratic members of the council had been in favor of a city planning survey when it was voted down last year, and felt that reconsideration might bring support at this time. He proposed reinvestigation of the proposal to hire a consultant.

A letter from the planning board, signed by John A. McCullough, chairman, also asked for action on planning. It recalled the bid of Edwin S. Voorhis & Son, Inc., of Rockville Center, to make the study at a cost of $25,750, which was rejected by the council last year.

Hopes for Early Action

Mayor Radel felt that new settlements could be obtained from one or two consultants previously considered. He felt that the council should be thoroughly familiar with each step to be taken, and he was hopeful of hearing from the aldermen at an early date. He cited cooperation given by Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye to act as liaison between the council and planning board.

Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward, were named earlier in the year.

The planning board letter held that a comprehensive plan is essential to general betterment of the city, including urban renewal. It stressed that deterioration has an effect on taxes, cited lack of parking facilities, and conditions in some areas of the city, and felt that the full value of an appropriation for planning would be "liquidated by the city, its residents and business houses in a short time" after completion of a comprehensive plan.

Lutheran Group Has Top Budget

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—The Augustana Lutheran Church has a record budget of $4,559,533 for 1960, an increase of 9.3 per cent over the spending program for 1959.

The 1960 budget was approved Tuesday at the denomination's 99th annual synod.

More than $1,280,000 of the total is earmarked for foreign mission work and nearly one million is set aside for the Augustana Board of American Missions, Church Extension and Evangelism.

The budgets are presented two years in advance to give member churches time to raise their shares of the money.

More than 1,000 delegates and guests are attending the week-long synod, which opened Monday.

The Augustana Church, with a membership of 576,000, is the fifth largest of 18 Lutheran groups in North America.

Appointments Made

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—James J. Butler, a lawyer from Carthage, has been appointed to the board of the Black River Regulating District, Gov. Harriman announced today.

Butler replaces Henry E. Smith of Troy, in a term ending Sept. 6, 1962. Board members are paid $25 a day while on business, not to exceed 100 days a year.

The district operates the Stillwater Reservoir and the Old Forge and Sixth Lake Reservoirs.

In another action, Harriman re-appointed Dr. William Carson of Potsdam and Robert Shaw of Scarsdale to the unsalaried council of the State Teachers College at Potsdam.

Carson's term will run to July 1, 1965. Shaw's to July 1, 1966.

New TV Set Is Given to Patients At TB Hospital

The patients at the Ulster County TB Hospital have been presented with a new television set through the generosity of friends, who with Mrs. John C. Salapatis, found that the ladies like to see "other programs" while the men are enjoying the races, boxing bouts and baseball. The television set has been installed in the newly decorated solarium which is being furnished for the women's wing.

A committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sam Feldman, has been appointed by Mrs. Richard Kalish, chairman of the Rehabilitation Committee, to work with Dr. Herbert Schwartz, who through a substantial contribution is furnishing the sun parlor with floor covering, furniture, chairs and tables, which with pretty new draperies, selected by the committee, will make a pleasant room for ambulant patients. These reports were given by the chairman at the June meeting of the Rehabilitation Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

According to the secretary, Mrs. S. James Matthews, reports of various sub-committees show that much is being accomplished by the group in both the Tuberculosis Hospital and the Ulster County Infirmary on Flatbush Avenue.

Cakes for Birthdays

Raphael Klein, chairman of entertainment, said that five entertainments were presented within the past few weeks at the institution. Mrs. Jacob Myers reported on refreshments furnished by various organizations.

Cakes furnished presently by the Lions Club of Kingston at the Infirmary and the Married Women's Club of the YWCA at the TB Hospital, are enjoyed by each patient who has a birthday. Birthday card remembrances are also sent to the TB patients by the Business Women's Club of the "Y" and the Ulster County Practical Nurses pledged their group at the meeting for a birthday card to be sent to each patient at the Infirmary when their day comes around.

A report of the occupational therapist, Charles Tarsia, showed that small garden plants have been donated by Maggiores and Walkers for the patients who are able to make a garden.

A hair-dressing chair donated by Sue's Beauty Shop is being repaired and renewed for the patients at the Infirmary, by the patients and therapist at the Tuberculosis Hospital. Members said they would look for another chair for the patients at the TB Hospital. Dr. Schwartz said these chairs in the hospital are no luxury—it is most important as well as helpful in giving shampoos to the patients.

It was reported that a new Morse sewing machine has come to the patients through the contribution of a second prize won by Miss Katherine M. Murphy, in the recent word contest, sponsored by the Jamco Company over WKNY. It was voted by the rehabilitation committee that the small balance on the portable sewing machine be drawn from the Joseph M. Fowler fund, which is used for the

Filipino Head In U. S., Congress To Hear Address

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philippines President Carlos P. Garcia arrived Tuesday for a three-day state visit.

After a White House meeting, he will address a joint session of Congress.

The Philippine leader hasn't spelled out how much aid he is seeking. But there were indications he will be at least partly successful in his mission.

Defense Department officials, viewing Garcia's island republic as an important defense area, indicated they are backing support of the wavering Philippine economy.

Garcia was greeted with full military honors when he arrived at Washington's National Airport aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane, Columbine III. Eisenhower and other government dignitaries were on hand for personal greetings.

Tuesday night, Eisenhower entertained the Philippine President and Mrs. Garcia at a White House state dinner.

CHESTERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—A head-on automobile collision near this Adirondack Mountain community Tuesday night claimed the lives of both drivers and injured four other persons.

Joseph Bruechler, 44, of Brooklyn, died when the cars collided on Route 28 at nearby Wevertown.

Edward J. McGrath, 58, of Richmond Hill, died early today in Glens Falls Hospital.

Three Brooklyn men riding with Bruechler were reported fair: Howard Eversman, 30, Walter Castellano, 33, and William Tynan, 22.

State police said McGrath and his daughter were traveling north when Bruechler's car, headed in the opposite direction, swung wide on a curve.

About that boulder in your eye

“Got something in my eye,” the customer said. “Feels like a boulder. How about taking it out?” He was hurting and wanted help then and there.

The pharmacist remembered hearing about another man whose “something” turned out to be a steel splinter embedded in his eyeball. He advised him to see his physician. Prompt surgery saved his sight. So, we’re careful. And if we seem overly cautious sometimes, remember—we’re pharmacists, not physicians. We work with doctors, dispensing the drugs and medications they prescribe. THE BAROMETER TO WATCH

An economy feeds partly on itself, and when it cannot do that at a sufficient pace it is in trouble. That seems to be the biggest factor in the current American recession.

In other words, the economy is sustained and advanced not simply by producing and selling goods to consumers but by producing to enlarge and improve its own plant and equipment.

This kind of producing effort is what economists mean when they talk of "capital investment." This refers to the money that is put into the modernization and expansion of the industrial establishment.

By nature, this effort involves use of heavy materials and machinery. Outlays are costly in terms of both men and materials.

When the investment is big and growing, as has been the case in most of the post World War II years, the impact on business generally is tremendous. A boom can have no greater stimulus. But when that investment slacks off, a shrinkage in the economic base is inevitable.

That's what is bothering the U. S. economy today. Outlays in 1957 for new plant and equipment totaled 37 billion dollars; a record high. A few months ago the prospect for 1958 was set at 32 billion dollars, but now the estimate has been revised downward again to 30.8 billion, a potential decline of 17 per cent.

We will not exactly be shriveling on the vine if we spend nearly 31 billion dollars to broaden and better our economic base this year. But on the other hand, we cannot take some 6 billion out of the money stream without pulling down sharply the general economic level.

On top of that, we are handicapped by a considerably reduced consumer demand for a good many things, particularly such durable goods as automobiles.

Bright spots have been appearing lately—the vastly improved farm price situation, heavier output of steel (perhaps in anticipation of a July price hike), slightly lower unemployment, and the like.

But warnings have been issued from many quarters in the last week or two that solid, sustained recovery cannot be counted upon until the key barometer—the amount of money invested in the country's economic future—shoots upward to 1957 levels and beyond.

Love continues to be a girl's best bet for a happy marriage. While its value has held firm or increased with the years, look what happened to money.

INDIVIDUAL ACTION

It would be redundant to say that men of good will desire world peace. Of course they do. Yet to say that all men of good will are actively at work to bring about world peace would be worse than redundant; it would be quite untrue.

A major reason for this is that many who yearn for world peace feel helpless to do anything constructive toward that end. One of the questions most commonly asked is that despairing cry, "But what possible good can one individual do?"

Mary P. Lord, United States representative on the UN Commission on Human Rights, gave one persuasive answer to this question recently in This Week magazine: "Whenever you practice person-to-person democracy, when you strive to understand people of other religions, races and nationalities, when you fight intolerance, when you stand for equality before the law, when you speak up for freedom whenever it is threatened, you are making an important individual contribution to peace. You are setting an example that is seen around the world."

This is not impractical, not unrealistic, not beyond the reach of ordinary men and women. It is something that all persons of good will can do—not through massive

'These Days'

THE PROS

There are always those who believe that politics and government should be left to what they call "the pros." That, of course, was the political theory of the divine right of kings. Nobody could be more professional than a king. He was born into his job and both reigned and ruled, if necessary, even if he were only one day old. He remained in his job until he died, unless he was thrown out by a murderous relative or was driven out by a revolution, as Oliver Cromwell drove out the Stuarts, as the Jacobins drove out the Bourbons, and the Bolsheviks drove out the Romanovs. When relatives do the job, they often exile their dethroned cousins; when the masses do it, they kill and it becomes a revolution.

The political theory upon which our country was established is government by the choice of the people. It is so stated in the Declaration of Independence: "... That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. . . ." The very first words of the Constitution are: "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union. . . ."

This may be 18th Century theory, but it is the only reason that we have achieved so much in so short a time and without the appearance of such personalities as Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini, Napoleon Bonaparte, Khrushchev, de Gaulle, Peron, Trujillo and their counterparts in other countries. We have had professional crooks in politics and we have had surprising hopes, but we have progressed because the people never failed to do what is right by their country through the two party system, the only political method that has sustained human freedom over a long period of time.

The political "pro," like the poll-taker, is usually concerned with nothing more serious than getting someone elected so that he and his political coterie may benefit in some way. He has an occupation and he lives on it. His public usefulness is measured exclusively upon whether in the sum total of his activity, the country benefits or is harmed.

Mark Hanna, for instance, the most professional politician the Republicans ever produced, left a very uncertain heritage of public good. His party was saved from disaster by the elevation of Vice President Theodore Roosevelt to the Presidency which brought in new elements and rescued the party from the Big Businessmen who were ruining it. The Vares in Pennsylvania left their party and the state in a hopeless condition. Charles F. Murphy, at one time the Democratic boss of New York City, did some constructive work such as the building of the subways, but generally speaking pros are on the taking rather than the giving side of public life.

In the history of the United States the men who have left indelible marks upon our national history were not the pros. Samuel Adams was more of a pro than George Washington, Aaron Burr than Thomas Jefferson, Charles Sumner than Abraham Lincoln, Mark Hanna than Theodore Roosevelt or William Jennings Bryan or Woodrow Wilson. Name the equals of Jefferson or Lincoln or Theodore Roosevelt or Woodrow Wilson among the professional politicians.

The reason the men like Jefferson or Lincoln or Theodore Roosevelt leave such a mark upon history is not because they knew how to make deals or bootlick or to bribe or accept bribes. It was because they stood for something precise, specific, understandable, something that reached men's hearts and minds. No Sherman Adams, a perfect pro, will ever write "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right. . . ." He would not know how.

Corny! says the practical pro who knows how to sell his country down the river by making a deal with some crooked labor boss or an equally crooked businessman, trying to grab off some privilege he is not entitled to. The pro in politics has not done so well in the United States.

Well, if that be corny, God grant that our country may yet be saved from its smugness and almost indecency by another Abraham Lincoln, and that if he appears in either party, may our people recognize and vote for him, no matter what the pros think. (Copyright, 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Child's Diet Needs Special

Attention in Summer Months

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

What sounds like an extremely sound and sensible article on the feeding of infants and children in hot weather appeared recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The authors pointed out that the need for protein in food seems to be unchanged, or possibly slightly increased, in hot weather. Also, that the vitamin requirements of children are probably not changed by living in a tropical climate or by hot summers.

The only major points to consider are those related to the loss of water and salt through excessive sweating.

One interesting point of which I was not aware is contained in a paragraph in this report which reads:

"During recent summers a 'new syndrome' has appeared. It is characterized by the pale, flabby, tired child who has gained excessive weight during the warm weather because he has stayed indoors in an air-conditioned house watching television most of his waking hours and has indulged in frequent between-meal snacks that have spoiled his appetite for well-balanced meals."

The authors of this report suggest that infants should be assured of adequate fluids by regularly offering them a few ounces of water between feedings. In artificially fed infants it may be desirable also to reduce the concentration of calories in the food mixture to approximately 18 calories per ounce of fluid during hot weather.

They also emphasize that individualized management of children during the summer is the best assurance of maintaining good nutrition. If infants and children taking well-balanced diets show signs of intolerance to ordinary heat they should be investigated for illness rather than simply having their diet changed.

Seven practical guides are suggested:

- 1) The habit of vigorous outdoor activity should be continued or developed. Children do not mind hot weather unless they are conditioned by their elders to dislike it.
- 2) Cool, but not cold, drinks are best. For the most part, water should not be unduly limited.
- 3) Between-meal foods and high-calorie drinks may have to be controlled.
- 4) A short "cooling off" and quiet periods before meals may increase the child's appetite.
- 5) Limiting of high-calorie foods, such as peanut butter and ice cream, may be necessary. For some children, the use of skimmed milk may be available to promote a better appetite for other foods.
- 6) The large and better balanced meal may best be served in the evening when the temperature is lower.
- 7) All of the usual measures and guides for developing good eating habits should be continued, irrespective of the weather.

The VP's busy schedule requires him to have some office help in answering his mail. But Mrs. Nixon has decided to follow the example set by Mamie Eisenhower and answer all her letters personally.

THE MARINES may be out of the running in the race for outer space, but they still hold the flashiest, snappiest parades of any service in the Armed Forces.

That's the enthusiastic opinion of government officials who have seen the Marine Corps parade, band concert and fancy drill exhibition held every Friday evening at Washington's Marine Barracks. Crowds at the event often number more than 2,000.

It's reported that some key officials have grown so fond of watching the colorful parades that they have given their wives orders not to accept invitations for cocktail parties or dinners on Friday evenings.

Ruling on Passports Called Blow to National Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Five members of the Supreme Court of the United States have shut their eyes to the "cold war." In effect, they say there are no American troops stationed in Western Europe today, there are no American troops now guarding the armistice line every day in Korea, and there are no conditions of emergency existing in the world at present. Hence, Communists and Communist sympathizers resident in this country are entitled to passports with the seal of the Government of the United States on them and are free to flaunt such a passport anywhere in the world!

Four members of the Supreme Court, on the other hand, say that "were this a time of peace, there might very well be no problem for us to decide, since petitioners then would not need a passport to leave the country."

The five justices who think it is very important for an individual to travel where he pleases and do what he wishes abroad to denounce his own government and its policies are Justice Douglas, Black, Brennan, Justices Warren and Chief Justice Warren. Their inference is plain that the individual's pleasure and desires supersede the rights of the government which represents the millions of other individuals who want their security protected.

Arguments Contrasted

"Travel abroad, like travel within the country," says the majority opinion, "may be necessary for a livelihood. It may be as close to the heart of the individual as the choice of what he eats or wears, or reads. Freedom of movement is basic in our scheme of values."

But the dissenting justices — Clark, Whitaker, Burton and Harlan—think that freedom to travel must be limited by the government that issues the passport and that in war time or national emergency there is a risk that an individual traveling abroad may give aid and comfort to the enemy.

The five justices in the majority opinion declare that the Supreme Court in the past had decided that the movement of citizens could, of course, be restricted in war-time but that this was true only on a showing of "the gravest imminent danger to the public safety."

Who is the better judge of when the public safety is endangered? Five justices cloistered in the chambers of a court who seem to have become blind to the Communist menace and the infiltration or subversion practiced by agents of Communist line in every country in the world, or the Department of State which has available up-to-the-minute information from everywhere as to the dangers to the safety of the American people?

Truman Proclamation Cited
The majority of the justices

flatly say that no condition of emergency exists at present, but the dissenting justices point out that the proclamation issued by President Truman in 1950 declaring an emergency is still in effect. His formal statement said that "world conquest by Communist imperialism is the goal of the forces of aggression that have been loosed upon the world" and that "the increasing menace of the forces of Communist aggression requires that the national defense of the United States be strengthened as speedily as possible."

The four dissenting justices sum it up in these words:

"In a wholly realistic sense there is no peace today, and there was no peace in 1952." This was the date when Congress and the President took action both believed was adequate to control the issuance of passports.

But the five justices constituting the majority have chosen to disregard what any Communist or Communist sympathizer or even a misguided person who isn't a Communist might do during his travels abroad that could embarrass the United States government in the carrying out of its policies. There is no way, for instance, to watch citizens carefully who are doing damage to the United States. This country has no right of surveillance abroad such as the FBI can exercise at home. The moment a passport is granted, a Communist sympathizer can have access to places abroad where it might be undesirable for the United States to have him go—such as, for instance, to plot with or get instructions from agents of a foreign espionage apparatus.

Sees U. S. Policy

The majority of the justices concede that Congress could pass a law specifically withholding passports under conditions arising out of war but not clearly defined as yet. Chairman Walter of the House Committee on Un-American Activities is already planning to introduce such a measure. There are, however, hints in the majority opinion that almost any measure to control the issuance of passports in "peacetime" may be struck down by the court.

Thus have the majority of the Supreme Court again thwarted the international policies of the United States government in fighting communism. They have said, in effect, that Americans who go to Soviet Russia and makes speeches there denouncing the United States cannot have their passports withdrawn. For all this apparently is part of "freedom of belief" and "freedom of association." This is in line with previous decisions of the present Supreme Court, which has already upheld the right to preach treason as more important than the rights of millions of other Americans to be protected against the effects of treasonable activity inside and outside the United States. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES, June 17—Senator Knowland and others in the fight against predatory unions have been afraid to attack the ugly proposition that unions are a holy institution. Nowadays, unions and unioners enjoy practically the same favors as churches and the clergy and with no better constitutional right.

The record of the hearings of the McClellan committee is a recital of rottenness. The power that Congress conferred on union racketeers by law is an invitation to wage extortion and send around their agents to negotiate relief for the victims. The pirate, the robber baron and the bowery gangster of 50 years ago were models for the criminals exposed by this panel of paltry hand-washers in hearings dragged out for more than a year. But the boss unioners have out-scored those historic rogues and, now, the few victims who have shown the practical sense to pay tribute and charge it to operating cost have been damned as rascals.

It should be fairly stated that unions are public enemies deserving to be destroyed. That should be the basic proposition of all debate on the subject. The bosses, from Meany, Reuther and Lewis down to the cheap little thieves of the catch-all unions licensed by the combined job-trust, all admit facts which prove that unions are public enemies. They all admit that unions cannot exist without power to extort a percentage of every dollar paid as wages to all the workers in the country. That is the meaning of their insistence on the closed shop. They all admit, in fact insist, that under unionism no American citizen has a right to seek his own job and agree upon his own terms, including wages and hours. They insist that there is not the slightest difference in the value of a good worker's hour of time and the value of an hour spent by a stupid, malicious, stalling, inflicting damage on machinery and materials, and disrupting the work of his betters. They insist that when hard times come the newest men on the job be laid off first and so forth up the line of seniority, regardless of the obvious fact that a brisk, honest, competent young man, hired only yesterday, is incomparably better than some aged and less willing and efficient veteran.

"Seniority" has no constitutional authority. Unioners reveal duce all Americans to a common level of stupid carelessness. The McClellan hearings have shown that these horrible violations of the constitution and laws of the nation and the states are by no means repented as crimes against the rights of our people, but only excused as rub-of-the-green.

The Roosevelt regime brought to an imposing majesty the sinister office of the labor relations adviser. Roosevelt planted unknown fakers in big suites of the war bureaucracy who were lifted to centers where they had quietly practiced their racket for many years unknown except to employers who called them up to turn off the heat. They became government agents now, adjusting extortionate demands always at the taxpayers' cost.

Newspapers saluted these frauds with stupidly credulous biographies, never disclosing the details of their dirty careers.

What is a labor relations adviser but a go-between who can adjust a shakedown by a racket union because he happens to be on mysterious terms with the crooks in the union office. Is this extortion by the union or bribery by the corporation? The issue is never put to any test except in the quiet routine which business men have learned to submit to under the labor relations laws, Wagner's and Taft-Hartley.

The workers, who are the pawns in this racket, never appear in the negotiations. In fact it is a crime by the employer to try to bargain with the individual worker. The union office is against his union to try to bargain as a person with the boss. In the Wagner days, a salaried parasite selected to inflict this atrocity on a people with nostalgic thoughts of personality and manhood went so far as to hold an employer guilty of a crime because he offered a good worker a raise for superior skill, diligence and "production." According to the federal law which is still the subject of this fight, the American citizen must do all business with his employer through an "agent" whom he knows to be a dirty crook, or traitor, and who will rob for trivial ends, and who never even asked him for authority to do his business.

This is a portion of the truth of the fight for the right to work. (Copyright, 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

County Poultrymen to Attend Program at Cornell July 8-9

Detailed plans for the annual Poultrymen's Get Together at Cornell University July 8 and 9, have been completed, it was announced by Associate County Agricultural Agent Robert D. Guzewish.

1,000 Are Expected

As usual, the event is being put on by the Colleges of Agriculture and the Veterinary College, and the State Poultry Council. It is expected about 1,000 poultrymen will be there. Associate Agent Guzewish indicated that he expected a good turnout of Ulster poultrymen in Ithaca for the two-day event.

Those attending will learn "which producers will be in business 10 years from now" at the kick-off session. This session will be careful analysis of the future of poultry farming in New York State and Ulster County.

The 10-year-outlook talk will be given by Prof. Frank D. Reed of the University of Maine. Later a panel of poultrymen and industry representatives will take up the subject. Another first day speaker will be Hermon I. Miller, head of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's poultry division. He will tell about Federal Poultry inspection programs. There will be first day sessions especially for egg producers, broiler growers, and turkey farmers. During these sessions a panel will take up the question "Can we house layers at one square foot?" A broiler growers' panel will tell what it costs to raise a broiler. Peter Crafts of Grasmere, N. H., president of the National Turkey Federation, will tell about self-help programs for turkey growers.

Talks by leading poultry scientists will be featured the second day. Cornell Prof. L. C. Norris will review 50 years of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Regional Poultry Research Laboratory at East Lansing, Mich.

A comparison of some coccidiostats will be made by Cornell veterinary Prof. P. P. Levine. The recognition and control of epidemic tremors will be taken up by another Cornell veterinarian, Dr. J. R. E. Taylor.

The get-together will wind up with a report on chronic respiratory disease research by Cornell Prof. Julius Fabricant and on new methods for controlling external parasites by Prof. J. G. Matthyse.

Program for Wives

A first-day program is planned for poultrymen's wives. It will include a tour of the new Veterinary College building and a visit to the Cornell Ornithology Laboratory and Bird Sanctuary.

Speaking of poultry research, a key to better understanding of muscular dystrophy, the dreaded, incurable disease in human beings may be found in an agricultural college laboratory.

Poultry scientists in the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University have received grants totaling about $13,000 from the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. It is to be used in seeking a correlation between human MD and the disease as it appears in chickens.

Dr. M. L. Scott, a Cornell poultry nutritionist, and his associates will try to determine the exact role of Vitamin E in the animal body. This may lead to pinpointing the events leading up to muscular dystrophy. Lack of Vitamin E is known to be a factor in the disease. However, scientists are faced with the fact that additional Vitamin E will cure MD in laboratory animals, but not in humans.

Telephone Plan Is to Expand Despite Recession

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—The New York Telephone Co. will continue its construction program despite the recession, a vice president says.

Kennedy Woody of New York City told the State Telephone Assn. Tuesday that his company believed the state and national economies were on a "sound basis."

Meanwhile, at nearby Whiteface, an accountant for the F. W. Dodge Corp. said recent gains in the construction industry might be leading the country out of the recession.

Dr. George Cline Smith said highways and other public works, apartment buildings and some types of non-residential buildings had shown considerable gains over last year.

Smith spoke at a meeting of the board of directors of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce. The State Telephone Assn. is an organization of small, independent telephone companies operating in the state.

Alfred N. Seward of Jamestown was elected president, to succeed C. Ray Lloyd of Manlius. Clifton E. McCormick of Johnstown was named vice president.

Re-elected were George S. Beckwith of Keeseville, treasurer; W. Malcolm Griswold of Phelps, secretary; and assistant treasurer; and Hamilton E. Cunningham of Albany, assistant secretary.

The three-day meeting ended today. About 600 delegates attended.

Auto Plants Closing

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Four Chevrolet plants in the Buffalo area will close next Monday, three for a week, one for two weeks, the company has announced.

Company officials said the closings were necessary to effect "production adjustments to balance inventory."

The four plants employ a total of 5,600 workers.

Mohawk Power Is To Hold Up Rate Plan for Study

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today ordered the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. to hold up its plan for raising electricity rates while the PSC studies it.

The company announced on June 3 that it intended to boost rates by about $10,452,000 a year, effective July 3.

However, the PSC suspended the proposal today and called public hearings beginning July 8 in Albany. The commission then will weigh the evidence and decide whether an increase should be permitted.

Most of the proposed increase would be borne by consumers in the western New York area, about $3,387,000 of the total, the PSC said. Commercial users would pay the bulk of that amount.

Niagara Mohawk's plan was to add 25 to 29 cents to the monthly bills of residential, farm and commercial users in the Eastern and Central sections of the state and 25 to 29 cents to residential-farm bills to the West.

Increases to commercial users in the Western Division would vary more, largely because of the concentration of heavy industrial consumers in that section.

In Buffalo last week, a group of 29 industries called for a hearing on the Niagara Mohawk plan. They claimed the power company was prospering, while its industrial customers were battling a recession.

The company claims its costs have climbed to the point where it is no longer receiving an adequate rate of return on its investment.

Second Transmitter Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second radio transmitter of Explorer III has gone dead and no signals have been picked up from the tiny satellite since Monday.

The other transmitter died out June 5. The Army's other satellite, Explorer I, stopped sending signals May 24. However, the transmitter of the Navy's Vanguard I still is functioning.

To Stress Revision

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for Michigan governor, plans to make a 236-mile stumping trip in a 1908 Oldsmobile. Bagwell says the car symbolizes the 1908 constitution under which Michigan operates and which he thinks should be revised.

Harriman Advises Rehabilitating of Workers Is Wise

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Rehabilitating injured workers pays both in human values and in dollars and cents, Gov. Harriman said today.

In remarks prepared for an institute on workmen's compensation, Harriman reported that 4,400 New Yorkers were returned to gainful employment last year at a cost of about 3 million dollars in state and federal funds.

These people had an income of less than 2 million before rehabilitation and of more than 11 million after rehabilitation, the governor said. He added:

"In terms of federal income tax alone, it is estimated that during their working lives they will have returned $10 to the government for every $1 expended on their rehabilitation."

"This pays in human values and it certainly pays in dollars and cents," he added.

The meeting was attended by representatives of labor, management, insurance companies and the medical and legal professions from the Binghamton area.

Low on VA Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—H. I. Lewis Construction Co. Inc. of Middletown, Pa., submitted a low bid of $713,992 to make alterations at the Veterans Administration center at Bath, N. Y.

Sealed bids from seven contractors were opened by the VA Tuesday.

but that newspapers and magazines also would benefit.

Of the present recession, Sarnoff offered this solution: "We must sell our way out of it."

Insurgents Take Prison in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Insurgents captured a woman's prison in Beirut today, and started shooting at nearby houses from the prison walls.

Fighting broke out in the area Tuesday night when insurgents assailed the prison.

The insurgents are Moslems opposed to President Camille Chamoun's regime in this half-Christian, half-Moslem nation.

The prison is on a hill overlooking the Christian quarters. The Moslems were shooting down into the Christian section.

The army earlier this morning removed the women from the prison.

The outbreaks came as three leaders of a U.N. observation team held their first meeting. U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld also is flying here.

The pro-Western government was expected to ask Hammarskjöld for a U.N. emergency force to guard Lebanon's borders against United Arab Republic interference in the 5½-week rebellion against Chamoun.

The observation team was established by a U.N. Security Council resolution last week to investigate Lebanese charges of U. A. R. intervention. But Chamoun's government decided Tuesday that mere observation is not enough.

Copenhagen Reunion

COPENHAGEN (AP)—American nuclear scientist Robert Oppenheimer flew into Copenhagen Tuesday night for a reunion with Denmark's grant old man of atomic physics, Dr. Niels Bohr. Oppenheimer, chief of America's wartime atomic bomb development, and Bohr, Nobel prize-winner and head of the Danish Institute of Theoretical Physics, have been personal friends for more than 30 years. During the war they worked together on the American nuclear bomb program.

Judge Flemming Funeral Services Largely Attended

Funeral services for Former Surrogate Judge Harry H. Flemming, who died Saturday after a brief illness, were held at St. James Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The officiating clergy were the Rev. Kenneth Neal Alexander, DD, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, and the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old Dutch Reformed Church.

Services were very largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes. Attending in a body were members of the Ulster County Bar Association, trustees of the Ulster County Savings Institution, city officials including Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Acting Chief of Police Robert Murphy as well as representatives of several organizations with which Judge Flemming was affiliated.

Monday evening a large number of friends and associates called at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street, to pay their respects.

Honorary bearers were Edgar T. Shults, Charles Katz, Walter Joyce, Louis N. Stock, Louis F. Radel, Martin F. Comeau, William J. C. Buddenhagen, trustees of the Rondout Savings Bank, of which Judge Flemming was president, and Alva Staples, Harry duBois Frey, Dr. John Krom, Ira V. Warren, George N. Flemming, Cornelius J. Heltzman and James E. Norton.

Burial was in the family plot in Montrose Cemetery.

Candidates May Appear Before Police Thursday

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today indicated the possibility of appearance of several of the candidates for appointment to the police force at tomorrow's meeting of the police board.

Acting Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, he said, has been asked to inform the men to attend the meeting, but he could not say whether any appointments would be made tomorrow night or not. Investigations in the background of several of the 26 candidates have been completed. The board will appoint only a few at a time. The first list submitted by the Municipal Civil Service Commission contained 10 names.

The mayor indicated that it was undetermined today whether the board would hear other patrolmen who were charged with infractions or irregularities while on duty as listed in grand jury or the Reuter reports.

One patrolman appeared last Wednesday on a charge and was fined, but his name and nature of the charge were not revealed.

Five Youths Held For Air-Gun Prank

Five Brooklyn youths who had been on a camping trip to Greene County amused themselves this morning while waiting for a bus in Catskill by firing air guns at a pole in the village. Their aim was poor and the shots broke several windows in the Greene County Court House.

Sheriff Fred Knight notified the Ulster County sheriff's office of the matter and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and County Identification Officer Earl Conroy met the bus at the Kingston terminal and apprehended the five youths who were returned to Greene County by Under Sheriff Joseph Pavlack.

The five youths, who were en route to Brooklyn, gave their names as Joseph Mitlof, 16, 266 Irving Avenue; Thomas Caine, 15, 162 St. Nicholas Avenue; Charles Pellicane, 17, 311 Stanhope Street; Robert Smith, 16, 251 Wynkoff Avenue and Edward O'Connor, 16, of 364 Palmetto Street.

Under Sheriff Pavlack reported windows had been damaged.

Esopus Hearing Set Tonight on Water

A hearing will be held at the Town of Esopus Hall at 8 p. m. today on revision of the Port Ewen Water District Code.

Supervisor Roger Mabie, who will preside, said that plumbers, contractors and developers and other interested persons were cordially invited to attend.

The town committee for revision is composed of Mabie, Councilmen Stirling Potter and Sol Rosenthal and Superintendent of the Water Department Harry Newton.

Gets Stritch Post

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII today filled the important Vatican post that was to have been taken over by the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

Appointed as propere of the Propagation of the Faith was Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of the Armenians. Cardinal Agagianian, 62, resides in Beirut, Lebanon, but is currently in Rome. Cardinal Stritch was appointed to the Vatican post on March 1. He died May 27 after being stricken ill on his way to Rome.

Board Will Receive Radio Bids on July 18

Bids are being sought for installation of a two-way radio system for Civil Defense, Fire, Sheriff and Highway Departments of the county.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Radio Committee of the board of supervisors and opened at 2 p. m. on July 18.

Specifications may be obtained at the office of the clerk of the board at the court house.

Bids previously received were rejected when it was ascertained the specifications previously drawn up did not meet with the requirements of CD and consequently Federal matching funds would not be available.

General Electric submitted a bid of $98,225.79 and Motorola bid $101,500. After rejection of those bids new specifications were drawn up and approved by CD for installation of a "narrow band" system.

Paltz Jaycees Hear Report on Community Plan

At the regular monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held at the Harmony Inn, Monday evening, Donald Martin, chairman of the community development survey committee presented the final report on this project.

After seven months of intensive research, the committee made the following recommendations:

That the Jaycees support the Chamber of Commerce in any way possible in their efforts in obtaining a two-way police radio for the village police.

Effort should be continued in the improvement of the Mike Moriello Park.

That a community calendar of events is needed. Jaycees would act as a central clearing house for activities in the community.

That an investigation be made to determine if garbage collection provided by the village would be cheaper than the present private collections.

That a bus stop shelter be built at the corner of Main and Chestnut Street for the convenience of bus patrons in inclement weather.

Fix-Up Program
That the Jaycees promote a general program to beautify the community. Specific areas mentioned were a "clean-up, fix-up and paint-up" campaign, tearing down of run-down and unoccupied buildings which are a fire hazard and improve the advertising of the community. Mr. Martin suggested that this would be an area where the Jaycees could work with the Garden Club.

That the Jaycees support President Eisenhower's Youth Fitness Program.

That a Youth Center be established. President Eldon Johnson thanked the committee for the work done and indicated that at the next Board of Directors meeting a plan of action will be formulated to act upon these recommendations. The plan will then be presented to the membership for their approval.

Chairman William Ball of the police publicity committee announced that publicity material should be here this week for distribution. Ball urged every Jaycee to obtain their police shots now, and therefore set the example for all people under 40 years of age. An alarming number of people under 40 have not even had one of the three required shots as yet.

Dinner Meetings
It was voted by the membership to hold four dinner meetings during the coming year. These will be held in September, November, February and April.

In other action taken, President Johnson appointed the following committee chairman: Membership and orientation, Ralph Amson; ways and means committee, Alfred Schreiber; social and program committee, John Metzler; spoke awards committee, John Center; public relations committee, Ralph Dennis; July 4th celebration at Mike Moriello Park, Richard Yanz; library, Joseph Farrell; Gay Day, William Ball; Christmas shopping tour, Donald Otis; Voice of Democracy, Philip Rappleyea and John Taylor.

The next membership meeting will be held July 28 at the Harmony Inn.

Ike Feels Nagy Death Setback For Summit Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the execution of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy has given a great setback to hopes for a summit conference.

Eisenhower told his news conference he cannot think of anything that has shocked the civilized world as much as the execution of Nagy and his associates in the Hungarian revolt.

Good Faith Violated
The President said these men were not guilty of evildoing but were fighting for their country. He said good faith had been violated in their execution.

This act, he said, can be regarded as clear evidence of the intent of the Soviet Union to pursue a policy of terrorism and intimidation aimed to enforce complete servitude.

Nagy's execution, the President went on, has alerted the free world to the lack of confidence it is compelled to feel in the Communist imperialists.

The news conference attracted 257 reporters. It dealt, for the most part, with the controversy over Adams.

HUNGARY—Eisenhower denounced the execution of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy and his colleague, Maj. Gen. Pal Maleter.

Shock to Free World
He said that the executions by the current Communist government of Hungary have shocked the free world, and also have had an adverse effect on the possibility of negotiating with the Soviet Union on such matters as a summit conference.

LEBANON—Asked under what conditions the United States might take military action in the Lebanon crisis, Eisenhower replied he could not answer that precisely. He also said he did not care to make predictions.

The situation in Lebanon, the President added, is being studied by Dag Hammarskjöld, the United Nations secretary general, and by a U.N. armistice team. What the United States does in the situation, he said, will depend on the findings of those people.

Third Barge Will Be Launched Thursday

I. D. Associates, Inc., will launch the third of five barges it is building for the New York City Department of Sanitation Thursday afternoon.

Roger Mabie, general manager, said the barge would be launched at 3:30 p. m.

The D. S. 65 is a steel hopper refuse handling barge 150 feet long, 37 wide and 12 feet nine inches deep.

It will be used to collect refuse in the metropolitan area. Each of the barges can handle approximately 300 truckloads of refuse. It is then towed to a large landfill project at Fresh Kills, Staten Island.

New York has about 35 such barges. Two of the five under contract here have been delivered. The remaining three will be in the city's hands by the end of August, according to present schedule.

Floods Maroon Many
DALLAS (AP)—A few showers spattered Texas from El Paso in the west down the Rio Grande to Laredo today, and some heavy clouds hung over the southwestern Texas area ripped by flash floods Tuesday.

The streams in the hill country fell quickly back to their banks after racing madly for a time following cloudbursts of up to 20 inches of rain.

The floodwaters blocked highways and marooned hundreds of persons for a time.

Floyd Miller, 47, of San Angelo, drowned in Concho River. Narrow escapes were legion.

A cloud fragment dangled in front of the setting sun Tuesday and jittery Dallas residents reported two funnels skipping about near the city. But the Weather Bureau said they were mirages.

Miller was fishing when a flood water rolled down the Concho. His stepson, Robert Robinson, 11, was swept into the water and Miller went in after him. He apparently was hit on the head by a piece of floating wood. Others rescued young Robinson.

Overflow . . .

grounds the Democratic party welcomed former Republicans who had "seen the light."

Supervisor John C. Quimby suggested that the vote be by written ballot and that all subsequent ballots be written.

This brought forth a controversy and Chairman Kelly ruled the motion of Quimby "out of order" after suggesting Quimby amend his resolution to limit the written vote to the office of district attorney.

Schick by 130
Appointed as teller for the Schick interests was Francis J. O'Neill of the 13th ward and Joseph Reid of Rosendale was named by the Gabrielli side.

On the vote Schick received 130 votes and Gabrielli 69 and Schick was declared the choice of the convention.

Schick thanked the convention, said he would conduct a crusade to remove corrupt and invisible government and would "seek out, prosecute crime and corruption without fear or favor."

Gabrielli said if he had heard Schick "say what he has just said" prior to the nominations "I would have put his name in nomination myself" and he promised his full support. He said he had not sought out the nomination himself but had been asked by friends to become a candidate and he had consented, but he was now "on the band wagon" for Schick.

Second Controversy
The next controversy arose when the delegates to the Judicial Convention were named.

Arthur B. Ewig and Francis Martocci, two of the seven named, objected when the convention voted to "instruct" them to support John J. McCourt of Marlborough. Both objected to going to the convention bound to support any individual. Ewig said he would have declined to be a member of the committee had he known he was going to be instructed to support any candidate.

Delegates Named
Martocci also objected and said he too refused to go as an instructed delegate and desired to see who was most qualified for Supreme Court Justice before he would commit himself. The convention went into an uproar and Joseph Reid nominated William P. Curran of Rosendale as a delegate. Curran declined and after the convention simmered down the delegates named were William A. Kelly, Thomas J. Plunkett, Bernard A. Culloton, Francis Martocci, Aaron E. Klein and Arthur B. Ewig. Alternates are John J. McCourt, Catherine Carlson, Abraham Streifer, Robert Stapleton, William Riseley, A. J. Cook Jr. and Ralph Gabrielli.

The name of Attorney John J. McCourt of Marlborough had been suggested by Supervisor John J. Gaffney of Lloyd as the Democratic candidate from the Third Judicial District, Gaffney saying that the rule of endorsing Supreme Court Justice had been violated by the Republicans several years ago.

Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of Port Ewen has been recommended by the Republicans, supported by several Bar Associations, to succeed himself for a second term.

Mccourt in brief remarks to the convention said the last thing he wanted to see was a split in the party. He said he had not sought the designation but had been requested to become a candidate. He promised to support "every candidate on the Democratic ticket" and also support any candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court who might be selected by the party.

Against Any Deals
Among those who spoke against instruction of the delegates to the Judicial Convention was Joseph Reid who said the matter "smells to high heaven" and said he refused to send men to the convention at Albany "without a free hand." He said he was not for any "deals" and suggested that Thomas J. Plunkett be named as the convention choice for Justice of the Supreme Court because he "had earned it."

Delegate Canino of Highland objected to instructing the delegates and said the affair appeared to be "railroading" through the matter.

Kelly Objects
Chairman Kelly very strenuously objected to the reference that he was or ever had "railroaded" through anything. He said the convention delegates ruled the convention.

In the confusion Abraham Streifer objected to the instruction of delegates and Joe Carroll of Hurley moved to table the resolution calling for instruction of the delegates to the judicial convention but Chairman

Kelly ruled the motion out of order. Kelly said the delegates had been duly elected without instructions and the motion of John J. Gaffney to instruct the delegates to support McCourt had come after they had been elected.

The name of Christopher Morris for Member of Congress from the 29th Congressional District was presented by Raymond T. Schuler and seconded by Al Nussbaum of Hurley and several others. The choice was unanimous. Morris in accepting said he had but to refer to the record which showed the Republican administration in Washington had "inherited a sound and forward-moving economic system from the Democrats." But the Republicans meddled with it and brought about a recession to the people, but "inflation" in government. Morris said the situation is bad for the small fellow but good for bankers and the wealthy.

State Committeewoman Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz was named by Rose Marie Hogan of the 7th ward for State Senator and there were numerous seconds. The selection was unanimous.

Gaffney Nominated
The name of Minority Leader John J. Gaffney, supervisor from Lloyd, was presented for member of assembly by Gabriel Canino of Lloyd and seconded by Mayor Edwin W. Radel, Supervisor John Quimby of Marlborough and several others including several supervisors.

Joseph J. Carroll of Hurley named Joseph Koenig for county treasurer with Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville and several others seconding the nomination. John Sanglyn of Hurley placed the name of Dr. Jacob Moss in nomination for coroner. Dr. Moss practices at Saugerties. Joseph Epstein and several others seconded the nomination.

State Delegates
Named as delegates to the State Convention at Buffalo was William A. Kelly, Thomas J. Plunkett, Harriet Allen Kerr, Edwin F. Radel, Nathan Raskin, U. Parker Upright and Raymond T. Schuler. Alternates are John J. Gaffney, Joseph J. Koenig, Catherine A. O'Leary, Harold L. Kay, James K. Ryan, Anna M. Ashdown and Eugene Glusker.

Recommended for State Committeemen to succeed themselves was Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz and U. Parker Decker of Lloyd for the two year term.

The committee on vacancies is William A. Kelly, Norman Keller and William Mahoney, city chairman.

Secretary Kellar distributed nominating petitions following the close of the convention and Donald Hastings spoke on the Democratic County Fund Raising Dinner to be held on June 29 at Tamarack Lodge, Greenfield Road, Town of Wawarsing, where Governor Harriman will be the guest speaker.

It was close to 1:30 a. m. when the convention adjourned.

Kerhonkson Pool To Open Monday

Roland A. Riegel, chairman of the Kerhonkson Youth Commission, today announced that the Kerhonkson public pool will open Monday, June 23.

The pool hours will be daily from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 p. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturdays and Sundays the pool will remain open from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m.

There will be season admission "family tags" for all members of the immediate family and a season plan for adults and also one for pre-school children. For guests there will also be a general admission charge with students for half price. This fee includes swimming the full day.

Beginners and swimmers classes will be organized and held throughout the season. Instruction in Junior Life Saving and Senior Life Saving will be available to all interested persons. Candidates are to contact the pool director opening week.

used for cooking and heating in these shacks, which add to these fire hazards.

Names Factors
McMurray said it often takes a "terrible fire" resulting in deaths and serious injuries to arouse the community. Again, community furor occurs when serious conditions threaten health. There begins also an interest in urban renewal. All these factors disrupt a community's complacency and stimulate action for improvement.

"In most cases today the indicated need is for a small project, a 100 units or less. The State of New York hopes to be able to assist most of these smaller communities with good housing and slum clearance programs."

Fried said the urban renewal program involving federal and city aid to private redevelopment had made it possible for small communities to eliminate blight.

Roads Are Essential
He pointed out that with our present major north-south highways what communities need are arterial and secondary streets and roads to enable people to get into the city—advantages not now enjoyed by the city of Kingston.

There is also a need for adequate shopping facilities and all that goes with it, such as parking, smooth traffic flow, etc.—a direct tax interest to the rest of the city to protect the tax base.

Nine Democrats From County at Syracuse Parley

A contingent of nine Ulster County Young Democrats were among more than 350 from New York State registered at the political institute held last week-end at Syracuse University campus, Syracuse, according to Frank Koenig, Ulster County Young Democrats chairman.

Locals attending in addition to Chairman Koenig were: Lewis Kirschner, co-chairman of the local organization; Mrs. Kathleen Quick, secretary; Frank Adams, treasurer; John Lucchi, William Davis, Donald Gregory, Miss Amelia Kramer and Miss Shirley Norton, all of Kingston; Norman Hammond, Town of Ulster and Miss Patricia Hunter of Rosendale.

In his welcoming address, State Chairman Donald Boves said, "The large attendance and interest in the institute reveals that the Democratic Party is still the party of youth, and points to an overwhelming victory in New York State."

Addressing the institute were Governor Averell Harriman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Michael H. Prendergast, state Democratic chairman.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

THE GREENGAGE SUMMER

By Rumer Godden

This is an entertaining story about a summer holiday in France, of five children, Joanne (Joan), 16; Cecil, 13; Hester, 10, and "The Littles," William (Willmouse), 7, and Vicky, 4 with their mother, Mrs. Grey.

The children lived in one of Mrs. Grey's brother's (Uncle William) houses in the quiet little village of Southstone, England. Father was away on extended botanical expeditions to far off countries, so they saw a little of him. Uncle William assumed most of the financial burden of the family and handed out plenty of criticism. Suddenly mother realized that her highly individual children were growing up spoiled and selfish and decided to take them to some place near the battlefields and cemeteries of France where, she hoped, they would be impressed by the sacrifices of others.

From a travelling neighbor, she secured the name of a good, quiet, inexpensive pension—the Hotel des Oillettes at Vieux-Moutiers on the Marne—and started out over the protests of Uncle William. It was a troublesome trip. Mother developed a badly infected leg from a fly bite. When they finally arrived in late evening, a hungry, helpless little group with a sick mother, they were made most unwelcome by the room clerk, Mme. Corbet. In fact she refused to take in a sick person and children and was about to send them to the police when Eliot, English friend of Mlle. Zizi, owner of the hotel, seeing how desperately ill mother was, took charge. Ordered a nurse for mother and rooms for all.

Next morning mother was sent to a hospital. Joanne had one of her nervous headaches which, from experience, Cecil knew meant days in a darkened room, pain and nausea. So Cecil took over. Most of the story from there on is hers.

With the callous indifference of children, they survey the scene and each chooses his or her own way of living in these strange new surroundings. Cecil discovered the lovely orchard between the hotel gardens and the river with the little blue door opening onto the beach. The greengages are at their ripened best and they gorge themselves upon them. Vicky spends much of her time in the kitchen where Armand, the chef, allows her to feed gloriously upon tid bits; Willmouse sets up his atelier on a grassy bank and revels in trying out new French style dresses on his doll models—a fine occupation for the only boy—Hester joins Cecil in trips to the hospital, swimming and gossiping with Paul, the houseboy after dinner. It was heady freedom with many activities most unsuitable for children. Vicky proudly announced that she never once went to bed before eleven o'clock.

Eliot was their friend and guardian, entertaining them and seeing that they were well-treated. Things went well with them, except when Eliot was away on his frequent trips to Paris. There was mystery about those trips and also about some of his acts at the hotel. He is evidently having an affair with Mlle. Zizi and when Joanne recovers and appears one night upon the curving stairway in all her young, delicate beauty there are looks of great admiration from Eliot, which puts Mlle. Zizi into a jealous rage and sets off lustful animal urges in poor, underprivileged Paul, with disastrous results.

Of great interest are descriptions of the thrifty French management of Les Oillettes. The great kitchen of M. Armand with its huge stove and ovens. Its rows of gleaming pots and kettles, large marble slabs for the preparation of pastries, live fish in a large tank, enormous refrigerator—locked most of the time — etc. They often had as many as 60 luncheon guests in the summer season and there were several large dinners and banquets, usually served at 10 or after, which kept the staff working from early morning until far into the night. However they knew they would be rewarded at the end of the season by a division of the tips, which amounted to quite a bit.

Trips with Eliot to Soissons Cathedral (their first view of a great cathedral) to a large champagne cave and a very late dinner at a little auberge in the country are thrilling experiences. With candid innocence, Cecil tells of indecencies and obscenities of Paul and of the really awful time when Paul got Joanne and Cecil drunk on champagne, stolen from the wine cellar and then blamed it all upon the girls. The kindly old painter, M. Joubert rescued them from that situation and thereafter helped Joanne with her painting for which she had a real talent.

A grand banquet at Les Oillettes a few days later, after which Paul got really out of hand bringing things to a climax and cleared up many mysteries which had been simmering. The children have seen too much and heard too much of adult depravity, mixed up with adult kindness. At the end five thoroughly frightened children are rescued by one whom you would least suspect.

Iced Coffee Is Handy and Versatile Summer Refresher

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

A wise 19th century poet gave this advice on what to do when the thermometer starts climbing:

"When the glass is at ninety, a man is a fool Who directs not his efforts to try and keep cool!"

Say okay to that and let's reach for a tall glass of iced coffee with droplets of frost clinging to the outside. Remember, good iced coffee always starts with good hot coffee.

The classic way to make iced coffee is to brew hot coffee extra strength, then pour it over plenty of ice cubes. The strong coffee compensates for the melting ice. For four extra strength servings, use six standard measuring cups of coffee and three measuring cups of water. Pour the brewed coffee hot into tall, ice-filled glasses. Serve with sugar syrup or sugar and cream, or plain, according to your taste.

Here is another easy, excellent way to make iced coffee. Brew extra breakfast coffee; cool it and freeze into coffee ice cubes in refrigerator. Then make iced coffee anytime by pouring regular strength hot coffee over the cubes. No dilution here — just full strength coffee chilled properly.

Although iced coffee all by itself is a wonderfully refreshing beverage, don't forget that it has many "flavor" friends. If you are a calorie counter, try extra strength coffee served in an old-fashioned glass filled with crushed ice. Then add a twist of lemon peel or some crushed mint as a cooling flavor touch.

Ice cream — especially vanilla or coffee ice cream—makes a truly delicious summertime cooler when it is added to a tall glass of cold coffee. Another good combination is iced coffee, chocolate syrup and a bit of heavy cream stirred together in a frosty glass. A dash of cinnamon or freshly ground nutmeg in iced coffee with cream is also delicious.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled lamb chops, creamed potatoes, broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, lettuce and tomato salad, strawberries, oatmeal cookies, iced coffee, tea, milk.

Respect for the Law

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — A $5 check arrived at Municipal Court here with this letter: "I run through a red light last week not intentional but still run through it. So do I fine myself five dollars and hope not any more, I driven since 1910 never had accident caused by me and this the first I have fine myself for breaking traffic law. Thank You, a Chillicothe residence."

Snakes Alive

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — If you like rattlesnakes, you'll love the Union County Hiking club. It hunts them, with wooden prongs. Led by Robert Gasser, a chemist, the club hopes to catch several snakes for mounting purposes. Last year's only rattler was caught by a teen-age boy.

Area Christian Leadership Group Has Picnic

The Catskill Mountain International Christian Leadership group held its outing at Knaust Lodge, at Bronk Lake, west of Coxsack Wednesday evening as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Knaust of Saugerties.

Following an informal recreation period, a steak roast dinner was served under the trees. Preparations were in charge of Warren H. Knaust who was assisted by Terry Staples.

The occasion was arranged as a compliment to Dr. Herman Knaust who was recently elected a member of the board of directors of International Christian Leadership, Inc., of Washington, D. C.

Guest Speaker

The guest of honor and principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York City, president of the Christian Herald Association and World Christian Endeavor organization. Dr. Poling has been editor of the Christian Herald for the past 32 years.

Dr. and Mrs. Poling are residing at the Knaust Lodge during the month of June, where the world renowned religious leader is engaged in writing his 37th book which will be his autobiography.

Dr. Poling has made 14 trips to the Far East and other areas of the world in the interest of Christian Herald homes for orphans many of which are located in Nationalist China, Japan, India, and countries of the Middle East.

80 Per Cent Orphans

He stated that 80 per cent of the children in these homes are orphans whose fathers were liquidated by the Communists. Dr. Poling has personally witnessed the results of the gruesome and unbelievable atrocities of the Communists. He is in complete agreement with Dr. Charles Malik, of Lebanon, that there is and can be no affinity between atheistic communism and Christianity.

He is unalterably opposed to the approval by the U. S. government of any doctrine or legislation that accepts or condones co-existence with international communism, no matter from which corner of the globe it comes.

Dr. Poling is scheduled to broadcast a series of talks over the Mutual Network on the subject of freedom and faith, beginning Sunday, August 31 at 6:30 p. m. and continuing for 26 weeks.

IN THE SERVICE

PETER BLANSCHAN

After a leave at home, Pvt. Peter Blanschman, 19, son of Helen Duffner of 304 Greenkill Avenue, has returned to Fort Hood, Texas for eight weeks advanced Army training.

A 1957 graduate of Kingston High School, Blanschman had an outstanding high school football career. He was captain of the football team and was named All-DUSO and Player of the Year. He plans to try out for Army football at Fort Hood.

He went in service March 13 of this year and received his eight weeks basic training at the Texas base.

Edwards Ends Course

Second Lt. Charles R. Edwards Jr., 23, whose parents live at 297 Washington Avenue, Kingston, recently completed the airborne course at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. Lt. Edwards received his parachutist wings after having completed the course, which included five training jumps. The lieutenant is a 1952 graduate of Kingston High School and attended Clarkson College of Technology. He was employed in civilian life by the Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen.

Gardner in Germany

Army Specialist Third Class Jerome B. Gardner, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Gardner, 11 Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, recently participated in a field training exercise conducted by the 3d Armored Division's 48th Infantry in Germany. Assigned to the infantry's Headquarters Company, Specialist Gardner entered the Army in November 1956. He completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex., and arrived in Europe in June 1957. A 1952 graduate of Saugerties High School, Gardner was employed as a draftsman by Ferroxcube Corporation of America before entering the Army.

House Takes Up Own Version of Harbors Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was prepared to take up today its own version of a compromise omnibus rivers and harbors bill designed to avoid a presidential veto.

The $1,555,746,000 House bill differs only slightly from a $1,556,225,600 authorization bill passed by the Senate Tuesday night with assurances that each of its 150 flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects is acceptable to the administration.

The two bills were introduced in substitution for a $1,577,379,800 authorization bill President Eisenhower vetoed April 15.

The Senate accepted three last-minute amendments requested by the budget bureau to make the bill entirely acceptable to the President.

One added authorization for a survey of a water route through Lake Champlain from Albany, N. Y., to the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The House bill includes these projects in New York State: Beach Erosion: Fire Island Inlet, $2,724,000; Fair Haven Beach State Park, $114,000; Hamlin Beach State Park, $404,000.

Flood Control: North Branch of the Susquehanna River (New York and Pennsylvania) $30,000,000.

Mohawk River, $2,069,000; Oswego Outlet $305,000; Lake Chautauqua and Chadakoin River $4,796,000.

List Low Bidders

NEW YORK (AP)—Army engineers Tuesday announced the apparent low bidders on projects in connection with Griffiss Air Force Base at Rome, N. Y.

They were: Royal Contracting Co. Inc., of Brooklyn, $315,900 for a depot building at the base.

Consolidated Constructors Inc., of New York City, $702,330 for an off-base electronics field station; receiver building at Stockbridge and a transmitter building at Ava.

Careful Bidding Makes Champs

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When Leonard Harmon of New York and Dr. Ivar Stakgold of Washington won both the open pairs and the Vanderbilt Cup at the recent Spring Nationals, it confirmed the fact that they were one of the strongest pairs in the country.

A large part of their success is due to careful bidding.

In the hand taken from the open pairs all South players opened one spade and all North's raised to two. At this point most Souths jumped to four spades and proceeded to go down one trick when trumps failed to break.

Ivar chose to rebid three hearts and Lenny raised him to four. With good play the four heart game was unbeatable since Ivar was able to discard dummy's losing diamond on his fifth spade.

Careful play was essential. He won the first club, cashed the two top trumps, led a spade to dummy's king, and a second spade toward his own hand. East could not afford to ruff this. He might be trumping his partner's trick.

Ivar took his ace and led another spade. West won and led two high clubs. Ivar trumped the second one and led out his last trump. East was now in the lead but it was too late. The long spade was established for a diamond discard.

The Declaration of Independence was signed more than 14 months after the first hostilities of the Revolutionary War at Lexington and Concord.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Next year, 1959 will be 100 years since Washington Irving died. He was born April 3, 1783 and died Nov. 28, 1859. He took his first trip up the Hudson in 1800 in a sloop. He wrote much about Henry Hudson and in fact says that Robert Juet's journal which covered Hudson's first voyage did not give all the details so Irving picked up much information handed down from his own great-great-grandfather, "who accompanied the expedition in the capacity of cabin-boy." Of course Washington Irving, as we all know, was a great story teller, and I give it to you as I find it. It may be interesting now as the Hudson-Champlain event is coming up in 1959.

About the trip up the river Irving writes in part: "My first voyage up the Hudson was made in early boyhood, before steamboats and railroads had annihilated time and space. A voyage to Albany then was equal to a voyage to Europe at present, and took almost as much time. We enjoyed the beauties of the river in those days; the features of nature were not all jumbled together, nor the towns and village huddled one into the other by railroad speed as they are now."

He further writes: "I was to make the voyage under the protection of a relative of mature age; one experienced in the river. His first care was to look out for a favorite sloop and captain, in which there was great choice. The constant voyaging in the river craft by the best families of New York and Albany made the merits of captains and sloop matters of notoriety and discussion in both cities."

He goes on to tell how "The captains were mediums of communication between separated friends and families. On the arrival of one of them at either place he had messages to deliver and commissions to execute which took him from house to house. Some of the ladies of the family had, peradventure, made a voyage on board of his sloop, and experienced from him that protecting care which is always remembered with gratitude by female passengers. In this way the captains of Albany sloops were personages of more note in the community than captains of European packets or steamships at the present day."

Then the trip as he goes on: "But of all the scenery of the Hudson, the Kaatskill Mountains had the most witching effect on my boyish imagination. Never shall I forget the effect upon me of the first view of them predominating over a wide extent of country, part wild, woody, and rugged, part softened away into all the graces of cultivation . . . As we slowly floated along, I lay on the deck and watched them through a long summer's day; . . . I am here recalling my first voyaging amid Hudson scenery and can say that it has been my lot, in the course of a somewhat wandering life, to behold some of the rivers of the old world, most renowned in history and song, yet none have been able to efface or dim the pictures of my native stream thus early stamped upon my memory."

Up to that time Washington Irving was the most famous writer about the Hudson. Yet three years after his death the most famous Hudson river boat, the Mary Powell, was launched and she was captained by the Andersons, of whom Washington Irving could have written so much in his sympathetic and understanding manner. Sad that history did not let them live in the same generation.

Two Speak Out On OCS Bond, Vote Saturday

Ernest J. Gardner, Mt. Tremper, representing the Ontario Taxpayers Committee and Mrs. Edna G. Bishop, West Shokan, a member of the Ontario Central School Board, in a letter to The Freeman made the following proposals relative to the Ontario Central School bond issue of $976,600 which comes before the voters Saturday.

They point out that a good centralized school is a combination of a sound educational program and a reasonable economy in the operation of the program. Ontario's school program is based on centralization and they feel that the following considerations should be made by voters before embarking on a regional school program such as that being proposed in bond issue.

"It is apparent that at the present time there is no area of concentrated population which warrants a regional school and the opinion of many people that an elementary school should be comprised of a minimum of fourteen rooms. Therefore, simple reasoning leaves but one conclusion: To utilize the facilities of such a school to the best advantage such an elementary unit must then be as near as possible to the geographical center of the district."

"At the present time no decision has been made known regarding the annexation of the village of Woodstock to Ontario. Any extensive program would be greatly affected by this. The potentialities of Woodstock and West Hurley must be considered. The district as a whole must be the prime consideration, not a small area."

"They feel that any new major building plan should be centered in the Boiesville-Mt. Tremper area and point out that when the present central school becomes a junior-senior high school there should be another elementary school in the center of the district."

At the present time Ontario Central School has 1,462 students. They state that it is wise to consider the possibility of population decrease as well as increase, concluding that a school in the geographic center of the school district would serve that district in the most efficient and economical manner.

Gardner reminds taxpayers of the district that it is their privilege to express an opinion on the proposed bond issue and reminds them to vote on Saturday. Personal registration is not required for this vote.

More Wrangling Due

NEW YORK (AP) — Stockholders of Yonkers Raceway Inc. today appeared headed for more court wrangling over a recapitalization plan for the trotting track.

Both sides were reported Tuesday to have claimed victory in voting on the proposal.

Harry Hausknecht, attorney representing 5,000 shares of non-voting stock, said a management group favoring the recapitalization claimed a winning margin of 4,200 votes while a stockholders' "protective committee" maintained it had defeated the plan by 13,000 votes.

It was believed that the foes of the recapitalization would go to court over this issue, as they did previously in efforts to balk the voting.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

B of E Okays Building Plans, Lets Contracts

SAUGERTIES — The Board of Education has given the architects authority to go ahead with the alteration and reconstruction of the Main Street building immediately.

The architects have assured the Board of Education that the new junior-senior high school building will be ready for classes by the first of September. They do not expect that the auditorium or gymnasium in the new building will be ready, but that all other areas will be sufficiently far advanced that they can be used without too much inconvenience.

Acting upon this advice and reassurance from the architectural firm of Sargent-Webster-Crenshaw, and Foley, the general contract for reconstruction of the Main Street building in the amount of $77,209 was awarded on Monday evening of this week to Henry H. Swart and Co. of Kingston. The electric contract in the amount of $16,993 was awarded to Jacobs' Electric Company, of Hunter. The kitchen equipment contract in the amount of $18,712 was awarded to the Johnson Restaurant Supply Co., of Syracuse. The stage equipment contract in the amount of $12,780 was awarded to the Cooper-Decorative Co., of Syracuse. Contract for classroom furniture in the amount of $17,253 was awarded to American Desk Company, represented by Howard of Troy and Schenectady.

The plans for changes in the Main Street building include the following: The installation of a new and fully equipped kitchen and fully-equipped cafeteria on the first floor of the old building; installation of new plumbing in the toilets of some of the older toilet rooms, and the relocation of some of these toilet rooms; provision of a teachers' room on the first floor; new

Calls Action Shocking

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul M. Butler, national Democratic chairman, said today President Eisenhower's expressed confidence in Sherman Adams is shocking.

"It is quite shocking for the American people to witness the stamp of approval that the civilian leader of our nation has placed on the highly questionable conduct of his assistant, and, most of the time, the acting President of the United States," Butler said.

His comments were made at an industrial relations conference of the AFL-CIO.

He asked his audience, "How many of you have a vicuna coat? I haven't received mine yet." He said this probably was because he was a Democrat.

15 Drivers Pay $205 Court Fines

Fifteen persons arrested recently on traffic counts paid a total of $205 in fines Tuesday evening in City Court.

Thirteen of the 15 arrests, it was noted, were made by Officer Frank Stip.

Following are those who paid fines:

William F. Bulson, 54 Johnston Avenue, Newburgh, speeding, $15; G. Lloyd Sellers, 124 West Chestnut Street, speeding, $50; Richard Bonesteel, Port Ewen, speeding, $15; Myrtle Craft, 241 Main Street, Saugerties, speeding, $15; Robert G. Dismisses Indictment

An indictment charging Bernard Frank Meir, Saugerties, with forgery of a $15 check, was dismissed in County Court today when the complainant requested the charge be dismissed. Frederick H. Stang appeared for Meir and said the defendant was to enter a hospital for treatment of a mental condition, and in view of the circumstances he requested the indictment dismissed and bail exonerated. Judge Louis G. Bruhn, on consent of the prosecution, dismissed the charge.

lighting in classrooms where needed; provision of a new fire escape; the provision of a considerable quantity of new classroom furniture; the lowering of the ceiling in the lower corridor; fireproofing of the ceiling of the first floor.

The Board also authorized the taking of immediate steps to make some alterations in the Hill Street School so that building may provide quarters for the administrative staff; Superintendent; elementary supervisor; clerical staff; business manager; building superintendent; clerk.

Since the alteration to the Main Street building will necessitate the administrative staff moving out of their present rooms, they will temporary occupy other quarters this summer until the Hill Street building is ready for occupancy late in August.

Superintendent Grant Morse reported to the Board of Education at their meeting on Monday of this week that all members of the teaching staff for next year have been engaged except three. All of these vacancies are in the grades.

David H. Hildebrandt, superintendent of buildings and grounds for the Saugerties Central Schools, has successfully completed a training course, "Planning and Supervision," the first of nine courses in a school building administration and maintenance in service training program sponsored by the New York State Department of Education for superintendents of buildings and grounds. The sessions were held in the Sleepy Hollow School, North Tarrytown. The course was in charge of Dr. Arthur Antin of White Plains and was attended by 27 building superintendents from Westchester and Rockland Counties.

The course was one of the first offered by the Education Department to acquaint building superintendents with their responsibilities to the school district and its employees, the methods used in planning and performing activities assigned to him and the establishment and supervision of a training program for custodial workers.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors were active and higher but the stock market as a whole declined in brisk dealings early this afternoon.

Chrysler led the motor group with a jump of about 2 points. Key stocks in other sections took losses running from fractions to a point or more. There was a scattering of plus signs.

Some of the best gainers in a recent advance were clipped in profit taking.

General Motors and Ford also were traded actively. Ford moved ahead about a point. GM rose a fraction.

Studebaker-Packard was higher on a large opening block but canceled the gain and enjoyed little turnover later.

U. S. Tobacco settled back for a fractional loss.

The leading steels were down. Aircrafts and rails showed fractional losses. Coppers were little changed.

Corporate bonds were mixed but showed a firmer tone in quiet dealings.

committee to which last night's proposals were referred.

Proposed action against use of amplifying units by "private hucksters" as made by the Uptown Businessmen's Association, was referred to the laws and rules committee.

The association, through its president, Stanley London, said it felt that use of public streets by mobile public address trucks sponsored by private hucksters, "creates a particularly noisy, raucous atmosphere unbecoming our city, as well as being unfair to the captive audience which must endure it."

It noted that Newburgh and Poughkeepsie have ordinances restricting use of the units and a section from the Poughkeepsie anti-noise ordinance was forwarded.

Points to Ordinance Mayor Radel, in a letter asking the aldermen to assist in keeping the city clean, noted that it has an ordinance with enough "teeth" to promote enforcement, but violators are possibly not aware of existence of the law. This appears evident, he said, from the extent of refuse found on streets.

Signs could help as reminders, he suggested, and then should come definite enforcement. Each alderman had copies of the ordinance on his desk. He asked all to study the seriousness of the situation in his own ward and forward suggestions and comment.

Reports on Hearing

Eugene DeDea, of 110 Madison Avenue, who with other members of the Kingston Civic Association, had protested April action of the education board on consolidation, gave a report on a recent appeal in Albany, details of which have been published.

DeDea, Worthington L. Rider, of 115 Lushbury Place; Howard Fox of 33 Grand View Avenue, and Bernard Singer, of 95 Washington Avenue, were in Albany June 11 to appeal "from the action of the Board of Education in overriding the wishes of the people as expressed in the April 2 referendum on consolidation."

Argument was before Dr. James E. Allen, state commissioner of education. The appellant cause was argued by John J. Schuch of the firm, Schuch & Klein, and Andrew J. Cook Jr., appeared for the education board. Briefs are to be filed.

Mayes Appreciative

Alderman Hirschell Mayes (R) First Ward thanked Mayor Radel, Alderman-at-large Kaye, and the public works department for action taken toward repair of Crown Street and for compliance with his request to have busses pull into the Crown Street bus terminal grounds to receive and discharge passengers.

Note 150,000 Start

It was noted when street work was first discussed that the city had $50,000 carried over, with which to get the work started. Alderman Perry argued June 3, however, that with a late start the city would be lucky to get 12 streets done during the repair season.

Progress in Garden Street, the first on the program, was criticized at the session, and action on street work was deferred until last night's recessed meeting.

Reports Given

Mayor Radel submitted a report on the New York State Conference of Mayors held in Lake Placid and Fire Chief James M. Brett forwarded one on the Conference of the New York State Association of Fire Chiefs held at Schoon Lake. Each said important matters were discussed and submitted agendas of the sessions.

Traffic committee reports adopted favored a flashing red light signal at Greenkill and Clinton Avenues, installation of parking meters on the north side of Grand Street for 200 feet from the north curb of Prince Street, and on the north side of Prince from Grand to Dederick Street. It favored discontinuance of a loading zone in front of Singer's store, North Front Street.

Tribute to Fleming On suggestion of Mayor Radel, the council rose in silent tribute to Former Surrogate Judge Harry H. Fleming, who died June 14. He had served as the city's corporation counsel for five years, was on its education board 15 years, and served on the water board.

The comprehensive city planning study, which is now proposed for reconsideration, was defeated last night through failure to obtain the necessary nine votes to authorize a bond issue.

Six Democratic aldermen, and William S. Keyser (R) Second Ward, voted for the study, and six other Republicans voted against it.

Two years ago, it was noted, the Democratic aldermen, then in the majority, had indicated they were for a housing or urban renewal project, but favored the Sixth Ward site already cleared, rather than one in the Kingman Park area.

In all events, however, a successful vote on the master plan, for which a planning consultant would be needed, was necessary before an urban development project could be approved.

Local Minister To Participate In Church Parley

The Rev. W. Bernard Grossman, district superintendent of the New York Methodist Conference will participate in a panel discussion Saturday at the ninth annual assembly of conference laymen to be held at the New York School for the Deaf, White Plains.

The assembly, a three-day affair, will open with a dinner Friday night. Principal speaker will be the Rev. Edgar N. Jackson of Mamaroneck, whose subject is "New Frontiers in Prayer."

The Rev. Mr. Grossman preached at the worship service at 11 a. m. Sunday. With other superintendents of the conference he will discuss "Christian Laymen Learning to Pray, Work, Speak," the theme of the assembly, at the Saturday afternoon meeting. Other superintendents are the Rev. Elmer B. Bostock of Yonkers; the Rev. John M. Pearson of Newburgh and the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards of Poughkeepsie.

Other speakers will be Emery M. Nelson of Crestwood, executive secretary of International YMCA; J. Wellford Martin of Crestwood who will discuss symbolism in the Bible and Carl E. Waite of White Plains who will welcome the lay representatives of 349 participating churches.

All three doctors reported that they had little difficulty with the English language at their respective universities, although Dr. Figueiredo found that the first quarter was a little harder until he developed an adequate facility.

They were pleased to be in Kingston and have found the year in this country instructive and helpful.

They will leave the United States in August.

Dr. Hargrave said the group would visit the tumor clinic this morning, the Cerebral Palsy clinic and the City Lab. This afternoon it will visit the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and IBM.

On Thursday it will take a field trip with the public health nursing staff, studying problems in the field.

On Friday the group will visit pasteurizing plants, waterworks department, etc., with Harry Edinger, director of environmental sanitation of the health department.

Wealthy Tenants Must Pay Rent Or Leave: Judge

NEW YORK (AP) — Four wealthy tenants, dubbed the "four barefoot boys of Wall Street" by their multi-millionaire landlord, have to pay the rent he asks or move out.

This was the ruling Tuesday by State Supreme Court Justice Francis X. Conlon.

The tenants had asked for a temporary injunction to stop their landlord, Greek shipping magnate Stavros Niarchos, from starting eviction proceedings against them.

The tenants charged Niarchos first tried to force the residents of his exclusive Sutton Place building to buy it at a high price and run it themselves as a cooperative.

When they refused, they said, Niarchos zoomed rents up to $1,000 a month or more from the former $400 to $700. Then the tenants received notices to vacate by the end of the month.

Conlon noted that rents on the so-called luxury apartments had been decontrolled and that Niarchos was entitled by law to charge whatever rent he wished.

The average apartment in the building, which overlooks the East River near the United Nations headquarters, has 11 rooms and five baths.

The four tenants are Stanton Griffiths, former ambassador to Spain; Colby Chester, board chairman of the General Foods Corp.; William L. Nichols, editor and publisher of This Week magazine, and Jean Lambert, general managing partner of a Wall Street investment firm.

Thruway Revenue Up 12.1 Per Cent

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Thruway toll revenues for the first five months of 1958 are running 12.1 per cent ahead of the corresponding period last year, the Thruway Authority reported today.

May business was 16.6 per cent higher than for May last year, the Authority added.

From January to May, the Authority said it collected a total of $10,252,097, including $9,195,555 in vehicle tolls. Concession revenues, including income from restaurants, gasoline stations and emergency service garages, totaled $934,150.

Toll collections for May on the state's superhighway reached $2,430,321, compared with the $2,083,457 of May, 1957.

New Synod Leader

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Rev. William T. P. Rambo of Belmore, L. I., is the new moderator of the synod of New York of the United Presbyterian Church. His election was announced Tuesday night at Syracuse University, where the synod is holding its 76th annual meeting. The Rev. Mr. Rambo succeeds the Rev. W. Wylie Young of Batavia.

New Law Will Help Widows of S-A Vets in N. Y.

The New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, and Howard C. Shurter, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, announced today that a new law enacted by the federal government last month will materially aid the several thousand widows of Spanish-American War veterans now living in New York State and receiving pension from the federal government. The new law, P.L. 85-425, grants increased pension to widows over 70 years of age of veterans of the Mexican, Civil and Indian Wars, as well as to all widows of veterans of the Spanish-American War, and, for the first time, grants pensions to some 1,000 widows of Confederate veterans and to the two surviving veterans of the Civil War.

The new rates, according to Shurter are $65 a month to widows of war veterans with service prior to WW I, with a special provision of $75 a month to widows of Spanish-American War veterans married to the veterans during actual war time. This means increases ranging from $7.27 to $12.50 per month will be reflected automatically in the pension checks mailed out at the end of July.

Survivors of veterans, as well as veterans and servicemen in this area, who have any question regarding their veteran entitlements will receive expert counseling and assistance at their New York State Division of Veterans Affairs office at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency. The address is 32 Main Street, Kingston, with branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Stratton Sets Sight on Seat In U. S. Congress

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Democratic Mayor Samuel S. Stratton plans to run for Congress in the normally Republican 32nd District.

Stratton announced his candidacy Tuesday night for the seat being vacated by veteran Republican Bernard W. (Pat) Kearney of Lake Pleasant. The Democrats have not endorsed a candidate.

Walter C. Shaw of Schenectady has been endorsed by the Republicans. He is the Schenectady County chairman.

Man Burned Fatally

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—A young man studying for the priesthood was burned fatally Tuesday while using a welding torch.

Robert Malatak, 22, of Jackson Heights, was working on a minor construction job at a Roman Catholic school when his clothing caught fire from the torch.

He died in St. Francis Hospital. Malatak was a student at Marian College.

Italian Princess Approves American Mode of Living

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Marcella Borghese, princess of Sant'Antelo and Santa Polo, Duchess of Bomarzo, is having the time of her life.

After having spent most of her life in the sheltered confines of Italian society, she is sampling the thrill of becoming an American career woman.

"So wonderful it is, I cannot tell you!" says the willowy blonde princess. "All is so different here. The women, they work, they are busy, they stay always young. All over this big country I have gone, and everywhere is friendliness. America I love!"

Although she looks too fragile and feminine to cope with anything more complicated than a dinner guest list, Princess Marcella is now a corporation president, no less, and has just returned from a trip that would test the stamina of a veteran traveling salesman. Introducing her Italian beauty aids to America, she visited in rapid succession Boston, Chicago, New Orleans, Dallas, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Washington, Pittsburgh and Rochester.

On her first trip to New York two years ago Marcella looked in wide-eyed wonder on the brisk activities of American women, the wonders of American kitchens, the breezy informality of American life. She clung to the arm of her husband, Prince Paul Borghese, blushed frequently and looked frightened. But a glint came to her beautiful brown eyes as she continued to observe the American scene and she left with the promise, "I shall return."

In Italy, Marcella's life is divided between the Borghese palace in Rome, the family farms near Florence and the villa in Capri. Each resident is fully staffed with servants, but the princess says she much prefers a servantless American home, fully equipped with electrical appliances.

Marcella sails for Europe this week, to gather up her 18-year-old twin sons at Lisbon and proceed to Rome, Florence and Capri. But she says:

"Francesco and I will be back in the fall."

INVITATION TO THE GIRL FRIEND OF A MAN FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours will be in town at the time we are giving a large party. We know that he is coming on business and also to see a young woman here who is a stranger to us. We would like to give him the privilege of bringing this friend to our party but we are not sure whether it is sufficient to tell him without sending her an invitation. If she is the one who must be invited, how do we go about this inasmuch as we don't know her at all?

Answer: If they're engaged, then it is very simple to send her a note and say that you're a great friend of John Smith and want her to come with him to the party you are giving on such and such a day. If they're not engaged, asking her would be assuming on your part. If he asks you to invite her, then you send her the same invitation that you have sent to everyone else without further comment. He then will explain to her that he asked for it.

Delayed Wedding Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has been married for some months and never told us or anybody else. She now would like us to announce her marriage but tells me that she also is expecting a child. I am wondering if any announcement would be suitable under these circumstances and, if so, what it should be.

Answer: Send out conventional announcements with the correct date. There is nothing unusual about this. Or if you prefer, you merely need tell your family and intimate friends and ask his family to do the same.

Buying Wedding Rings

Dear Mrs. Post: How shall I go about buying a wedding ring for the bridegroom? I suppose I buy this ring just as he buys mine. Shall we go together to get both of them or how is it generally done?

Answer: Quite right—you go together. You buy his and he buys yours.

Is it proper to wear veils in the evening? Is card leaving still the proper thing to do? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test,"

Knausts at Sauerzies Entertain Group Of Mothers Committee at Stroomzeit

A delegation of 70 persons associated in various capacities with the American Mothers Committee, Inc., arrived in automobiles from New York City last Saturday morning at Sauerzies, to spend the day as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Knaust of Stroomzeit.

Included in the group were members of the board of directors and their husbands, members of the advisory board of the committee, and a number of women who had served as hostesses for State Mothers during the week of festivities preceding the annual awards luncheon held at the Waldorf Astoria early in May.

Later in the forenoon, the group were given a conducted tour through Iron Mountain Underground Storage Vaults near Linlithgo after which the delegation was entertained at a luncheon at Skyline Restaurant, Catskill.

Following the luncheon, members of the group returned to Stroomzeit for an informal meeting outdoors and a tour of the spacious, flower-bedecked terraces and gardens.

On the return trip to New York, members of the delegation mitted, Inc. each year elects the American Mother of the Year, and supervises the election of the State Mothers who are chosen each year by the 48 states and the outlying possessions of the United States.

Home Extension Service News

Fifteen women from the Home Demonstration Department of the Ulster County Extension Service along with representatives from Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange and Sullivan Counties, met at Liberty June 6 to hear reports and recommendations that came out of a program conference of regional representatives and Extension specialists held at the New York State College of Home Economics at Ithaca in May. The purpose of the state wide activities is to learn the needs of today's homemaker and determine the content and method each subject matter field in home economics and related subjects can contribute to this end.

After hearing the reports of the delegates to the state meeting, county representatives addressed themselves to the question of how this information can be used most effectively in county programs. The fruits of the discussion will be passed on to Ulster County homemakers via reports to unit chairmen at their Council meeting in October.

Those in attendance were: Mrs. Millard Davis, Mrs. George Schwab, and Mrs. Louis Zipperman—Child Development and Family Relationships; Mrs. Carl Dedy and Mrs. Joseph Daut—Citizenship; Mrs. M. H. Felsen—Economics of the Household and Household Management; Mrs. Fred DuBois Jr., and Mrs. Frank Coy—Floriculture; Mrs. William McNamee and Mrs. Jack Whistance—Food and Nutrition; Mrs. Robert DuBois and Mrs. Charles Kenny—Housing and Design; Mrs. Dan Secore—Institution Management; Mrs. Gerald DuBois—Textiles and Clothing.

COUNTY LEADERS RECEIVE TRAINING

Mrs. Robert Atkinson of Kingston and Mrs. Carl Dedy of Lomontville, county leaders in the Home Demonstration Department, have just returned from attending training schools at the New York State College of Home Economics preparatory to their training local leaders in their respective fields of work in the fall. Mrs. Atkinson will conduct training on advanced copper enameling, cloisonne, stenciling using natural materials such as ferns and leaves. Emphasis will be placed on making accessories for the home—wall plaques, boxes, trinkets, etc.

Mrs. Dedy will meet with citizenship leaders for an all day lesson on September 23. The topic is "Do I Count as a Citizen in My State?" This concerns the state government, its offices and functions, its relation to federal and county government, the two way responsibility that exists between the state and the individual citizen.

FREEZING GUIDE

Homemakers are advised to write or call the Home Demonstration Department for "A Freezing Guide" to be ready to cope with the freezing of fruit, vegetables and dairy products. This handy guide, hung on the kitchen cupboard door for ready references, will prove invaluable. It is free to New York residents.

THE MARKET

Although at this season there is not a wide variety of fruits, native strawberries are now on the market. Bananas and pineapple remain good choices.

Vegetables in wide variety all in good supply and reasonable. Weekly meat production, after surpassing last year's output for a few weeks, has again fallen below that of a year ago. Prices remain firm although pork loins have declined slightly recently. Chuck continues to be one of the more reasonable beef cuts.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Schafer, 204 West Chestnut Street, have returned from a week's trip to New York City, New Jersey, Maryland and Williamsburg, Va. They returned through Washington, stopping off at Mt. Vernon.

S/Sgt. Lawrence Avery and his wife, the former Margaret Albright of Kingston, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Sgt. Avery, who is the son of Catherine Avery of Tillson, is attending school at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

Hostesses Are Named

Hostesses for the surprise stork shower given recently for Mrs. Norton Lawrence at the Stone Ridge Methodist Church, have been announced.

They were the Meses. George Shea, Myron Myers. Assistance was provided by Mrs. Lawrence's Sunday School class of junior girls.

MacFarlane-Hallinan Wedding Is Announced; Couple Will Make Their Home in Potsdam

Miss Jane Stuart MacFarlane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. MacFarlane of Schenectady, became the bride of John Francis Hallinan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hallinan of 45 Clifton Avenue, Kingston, on Sunday, June 8 at 2 p. m.

The ceremony was held at St. Helen Church, Schenectady. The Rev. Edward J. Hogan, pastor, officiated.

Miss Lenore June Rispoli of Schenectady was the maid of honor. Best man was R. Alan Bleser, Schenectady. Ushers included Robert A. Hess, Floral Park; Robert S. Sadler, Port Jefferson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz length dress of white lace over taffeta. A braided crown trimmed with pearls with a shoulder length French illusion veil was also worn. The bride carried a semi-cascade of pink Briarcliff roses and white feathered carnations.

The maid of honor wore a waltz length powder blue organdy gown with a matching powder blue head band. She carried semi-cascade of Better Time roses and blue tinted feathered carnations.

The church was decorated with white peonies for the occasion. Miss Thomasina Fosegan sang "Ave Maria," and "Panis Angelicus." Traditional wedding music was played by Allan Shepherd.

Says New Haven RR Faces Bankruptcy

BOSTON (AP)—A special railroad commission says the New Haven Railroad faces bankruptcy within a few months.

The commission's study revealed Tuesday night the railroad has assets of 28 million dollars and liabilities of 37 million dollars.

Commission members said the financial picture of the railroad was so black its directors had been invited to appear at a hearing to be asked if they were aware of the gravity of the situation.

Will Go to U. S.

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama said in Parliament today he hopes to fly to Washington to discuss banning nuclear tests and to resist U. S. moves to curtail imports from Japan.

The Foreign Minister said it is time to adjust U. S. and Japanese views on issues between the two countries, to keep up with changes in the world situation.

Forces Near Menado

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Government forces were reported today within five miles of Menado. The fall of that rebel headquarters city in north Celebes was said to be imminent.

There was no immediate comment from army spokesmen in Jakarta.

Phoenicia Playhouse Announces Schedule Of Season's Plays

Four hit Broadway comedies, three dramas and two farces will comprise the 1958 schedule of the Phoenicia Playhouse, announced today by Paul Kielar, producer.

Included will be "The Matchmaker," "Separate Tables," "Visit to a Small Planet," "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "No Time for Sergeants," "Sailor Beware," "Tobacco Road," and "Thieves' Carnival."

"As in the past, we have avoided the standard fare often associated with summer theatre," said Adrian Hall, Playhouse director. "Instead, our schedule contains some of the best recent Broadway hits, as well as revivals of plays which have made major contributions to American Theatre."

"The Matchmaker," scheduled for July 1-6, is the Thornton Wilder comedy in which Ruth Gordon starred for more than a year at the Royale Theatre in New York. The Daily News called it "Brilliant, sage, and witty."

"Separate Tables," July 8-13, by Terence Rattigan, ran for a year on Broadway, had a successful road tour, and is now being made into a movie starring Rita Hayworth and Deborah Kerr.

"Visit to a Small Planet," July 15-20, is the satirical farce in which Cyril Ritchard scored his first American triumph. Tennessee Williams said of the Gore Vidal script, "A brilliant satire on the follies of our time, done with great humanity and wit."

"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," July 22-27, is the play for which Tennessee Williams won a Pulitzer Prize and a Drama Critics award. In it, "Williams is a master dramatist, with a terrifying knowledge of the secrets of the mind," according to Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times.

"No Time for Sergeants," July 29-August 3, has had a fabulous career. First a best-selling novel, then a hit on Broadway, the Ira Levin comedy is now earning rave reviews from movie critics.

The August 5-10 booking is being held open for the latest Broadway comedy release available at that time.

"Sailor Beware," August 12-17, is a comedy by Peter Blackmore which will have its New York area debut at the Phoenicia Playhouse.

"Tobacco Road," August 19-24, was adapted by Jack Kirkland from Erskine Caldwell's best-selling novel. The play set a record for continuous Broadway performances during its seven and a half year run, and later had a long and successful road tour, marked by continued controversy over its earthy realism.

"Thieves' Carnival," August 26-31, enjoyed a long run off Broadway with the Proscenium Playhouse. Its author is Jean Anouilh, the outstanding contemporary French playwright, who had Broadway successes in "Waltz of the Toreadors" and "Time Remembered."

"Our success last season, and the interest expressed by the public already this year have been very encouraging to us," said Adrian Hall. Reservations and season tickets are available at the box office. The Playhouse is located on Route 214, a mile and a half from downtown Phoe-

YMCA Day Camp Will Open Monday

The YMCA Day camp located at DeWitt Lake has all facilities ready for the grand opening on Monday, June 23, as announced by Camp Director Louis H. Schafer this morning.

Play equipment, swings, benches and tables have all been painted and new sand placed in the play pen has given the camp a new look.

Richard Case, Y physical director, has finished getting the play space cleaned, the leaves burned and all broken limbs that have fallen from the trees, have been picked up, thereby making camp look neat and clean for the 1958 season.

Mr. Schafer has purchased new equipment for the benefit of all boy and girl campers. Campers are registering daily and it looks now as though the opening day will have the usual 125 campers for its first week.

Many of the senior and junior counselors gathered at the YMCA recently for a thorough briefing. All have renewed or taken special tests in life saving at the YMCA and received their life saving service certificate and special emblem for their bathing suit. Both Mr. Schafer and Mr. Case, expressed their opinion to the counselors just before the close of the meeting, that the leadership at camp this summer should be far superior than that of any previous year.

Will Speak Monday At Rondout Valley Graduation Exercises

DR. MARVIN A. RAPP

The Rondout Valley Central School will hold its second high school commencement exercises on Monday, June 23, at 8 p. m. in the Kerhonkson school auditorium.

Dr. Marvin A. Rapp, associate executive dean for Institutes and Community Colleges, State University of New York, will deliver the main address which is entitled "Dimensions."

Dr. Rapp obtained his Bachelor of Arts at Colgate University and his Masters and Doctorate degrees at Duke University. During the war years he served in the Army Air Force Intelligence Division in Washington. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho, Kappa Delta Pi and Delta Sigma Pi.

On Sunday, June 22, the Second Baccalaureate Services will be held in the Kerhonkson school auditorium at 8 p. m. The Rev. Paul Babich of the Federated Church of Kerhonkson, will be the officiating minister. The Rev. George Wood, pastor of the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord, will offer the prayer and deliver the benediction. The Rev. Mr. Babich will read the scripture and deliver the sermon and Shalom Michael, Kerhonkson, will give the invocation.

In view of the large seating capacity of the Kerhonkson auditorium, both the Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises will be open to the public and all area residents are invited to attend. Certain reserved sections, however, will be set aside for the graduating class, their parents, board of education, members of the teaching staff and guests.

The graduation class numbers 37 and it is expected at this time, that all students will complete requirements for graduation. Of the 37 seniors, 16 are expected to meet requirements for a State Regents Diploma. The remaining students will have made all course requirements, but have not taken all of the regular Regents examinations. Many of the graduates have been accepted into various colleges while others have secured positions in local industries.

Computer Makes Modern Planes Nearly Automatic

WASHINGTON (AP)—General Electric Co. has developed a new kind of airborne computer which it said would make a modern fighter-bomber nearly automatic. As described at a meeting of military electronics specialists Tuesday, the digital computer can:

1. Help the pilot navigate from his base to the target.
2. Choose the particular weapon to be employed, and prepare it for firing.
3. Control the approach maneuvers of the plane as it nears the target.
4. Release a bomb or missile at the proper moment with regard to altitude, wind velocity, distance from the target and other conditions.
5. Select the best altitude and speed, from the standpoint of fuel economy, for the flight home.
6. Direct the aircraft back to its base.

The computer was developed by GE's Light Military Electronic Equipment Department at Utica, N. Y., and was described by M. R. Johnson, manager of the department's armament and control section.

The Virgin Islands (40 miles east of Puerto Rico) were purchased by the U. S. from Denmark in 1917 for 25 million dollars.

Exchange Students Will Be Entertained In Kingston June 30

Two bus loads of foreign exchange students sponsored by American Field Service and through the courtesy of Prisma Society of Kingston High School, will arrive in Kingston on June 30.

The event is part of a cross country tour culminating their year in this country. All European countries are represented in this group and will be housed by Prisma members and members of the student body.

The itinerary will include a picnic at Ashokan Reservoir on July 1 at 11 a. m.; a visit to Hyde Park and Vanderbilt estate.

The Lions Club will entertain the students at dinner that same day at 5 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Departure time from Kingston has been set for July 2 at 9:30 a. m.

More than 80 students are expected to arrive here.

For several years, Prisma, through many magazine drives in the fall, has been able to bring an exchange student for a year's study in Kingston and to also send a Prisma girl abroad to live with a foreign family each summer.

Penny Johnson will spend this summer in England and Constance Kroeger, a German exchange student, will return to her home in Germany having spent the past year studying at Kingston High School.

In charge of the itinerary are Beverly Castor and Mary Ellsworth, Prisma girls.

Hi Y Club

Hi Y Club of YMCA will hold a combination beach party and meeting on Thursday, 6:30 p. m. at Kingston Point. All members are urged to attend.

A new achievement in baby feeding... rennetized* cereal

*Rennet enzyme gives new balanced-protein food a smooth, custard-like texture never before possible in baby cereal.

After years of research and counsel of leading universities and pediatricians, our laboratories have developed the first baby food containing the important rennet enzyme.

New, Custard-like Texture. This new kind of cereal—with rennet in it—is completely unlike any other kind. Never gets pasty or sticky. Never lumpy. No need to add extra milk during feeding. "Junket" Rennetized Cereal has a melt-in-baby's-mouth smoothness which makes it the perfect cereal to start him on...and keep him on. Mothers gratefully tell us: "My baby doesn't fight this cereal, but reaches eagerly for it."

Help Baby Grow—Keep Him On It. Clinical hospital tests strongly indicate that babies fed this new kind of food thrive on it and prefer it to other kinds. The doctors directing these tests found that—because the rennet enzyme makes milk more easily digestible—they could take advantage of all the benefits of fresh milk, even for very young babies.

New—Balanced-protein Food. When you feed baby "Junket" Rennetized Cereal he needs no other cereal, for this is the complete balanced-protein food. It is the first cereal to bring baby the essential body-building amino acids in ideal proportions for efficient use of protein in his young body. It is balanced in respect to all other major nutrients.

Ask your Doctor. Next time you take your baby for his...or her...regular visit, ask your doctor about the health benefits of new "Junket" Rennetized Cereal. Reach for the big box with rennetized on it—at your grocer's now.

Developed with pediatricians and eminent nutritionists for healthier babies.

These Are Friends, Indeed, But Only to Themselves

What kind of friend are you? Are you the kind of friend who is all sympathy when others are in trouble, but who hates to see them prosper and get ahead? The kind who sticks when the going is good, but is too busy to be bothered when a friend can no longer do him any good? Are you the kind who takes—but rarely gives?

Who counts every favor done and every favor received—keeping a mental balance sheet of what he does for others and what they do for him? Who resents a friend's being well liked by others or thinking as much of others as of him? Who prides himself of being frank—which means being frank to point out the unpleasant truth, to see the fly in the ointment, to make the unhappy reminder?

Who takes old friends for granted and makes less effort for them than for the newest acquaintance?

Who agrees with a person to his face, and criticizes him behind his back?

Who wants to have everything his own way, and everything done at his convenience?

Who can be silent while a friend is being criticized or gossiped about?

Or, are you the kind of friend you expect your friends to be to you?

Are you sure?

Newburgh-BeaconFerry Schedule Is Revised

In a move designed to reduce expected deficits, revised operation schedules of Newburgh-Beacon Ferry went into effect Tuesday.
John S. Stillman, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority announced that the expected savings will be about $30,000 a year, a figure less than half of the anticipated deficit.
The schedule changes are designed to continue the present level of service during the week-day rush hours—7 to 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. Additionally, 15 minutes service will exist from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. During the other periods, there will be one boat service—a ferry leaving each city every 30 to 40 minutes.

Ferry service will continue to connect with early and late New York City trains to and from Beacon, Saturday, Sunday and holidays there will be a slightly different schedule. The revised schedule is based on a month long study of the hour by hour traffic needs.

"Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp."

"Anyone can get a big doctor bill... and that includes even obviously healthy people like Gerry Kervel, one of our young engineers," says William Lewis, personnel manager and a director of Ebasco Services. "Blue Shield is basic protection that every family needs!"

Why EBASCO—engineers and consultants— chose Blue Shield for doctor bills

HERE'S WHY 4,900,000 NEW YORKERS BELONG TO BLUE SHIELD!

• You choose your own doctor!

There is no closed panel of doctors you have to go to. Your Blue Shield benefits are paid for care rendered by any licensed physician anywhere in the world.

• Broad range of Benefits.

Blue Shield offers a wide selection of plans. One of these is sure to fit your needs and pocketbook.

• You get long-range security.

Blue Shield has never cancelled a subscriber because of old age, sickness, unemployment, or retirement. When you leave your Blue Shield group—for any reason—you simply transfer your coverage from group to direct payment.

• You get more for your money.

Blue Shield is a not for profit community-sponsored organization. That means that all money beyond its low operating expenses and required reserves is returned to subscribers in benefits.

"In the past 4 months alone, Ebasco employees received $22,155.50 in [Blue Shield benefits]," says Fred C. Gardner, President of Ebasco Services, internationally known engineering, construction and business consulting firm.

"I've seen some of the really big doctor bills Blue Shield paid," Mr. Gardner states.

"Blue Shield's prompt and realistic payments prove, better than any words, the great value of the new Expanded Blue Shield Plan to our employees."

"Mr. William N. Lewis, our director of personnel, hears frequently from our 1800 employees about the really substantial help Blue Shield gives them for all types of surgery and a wide range of medical care."

Ebasco was one of the first groups to step up its coverage to Blue Shield's new Expanded $4000-$6000 Service Contract. Today—other prominent New York companies are following Ebasco's lead at the rate of 400 firms a month.

Paid-in-full benefits. For Ebasco employees whose family incomes are $6,000 or less ($4,000 if single), this new Expanded Service Contract offers paid-in-full Service Benefits for medical care in the hospital, surgical care and anesthesia. This paid-in-full service program is backed by 18,000 Participating Physicians—and by every County Medical Society in the New York area!

And this new plan also offers new and expanded benefits to all employees—regardless of income.

Find out about Blue Shield protection for yourself. It could save you hundreds of dollars and weeks of worry in the coming year. The protection most New York doctors choose for their own families

State Politics Draw Washington Attention

By JAMES C. MUNN

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State's interesting political situation is a prime conversational topic in Washington.

There is much talk about bids for high elective office by Republican Len Hall and Democrat Jim Farley, both former national committee chairmen.

Hall is seeking the GOP nomination for governor and Farley wants to be the Democratic choice for the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Irving M. Ives, Norwich Republican.

Wide Acquaintances

Hall and Farley enjoy a wide acquaintance in Washington because of their former service here.

When a known New Yorker pauses for chit-chat with a taxi driver, waiter, non-New York members of Congress, neighbors, or what-have-you, the inevitable subject is New York politics.

The talks generally follow the same pattern. They go something like this:

"Understand there's a hot political situation in New York this year. Who are the Republicans going to run against (Gov.) Harriman? Has Hall got a chance? I'd like to see of Jim Farley wind up his career in the Senate. Who is this fellow (State Sen. Walter J.) Mahoney who's being mentioned by the Republicans for governor? And how about Nelson Rockefeller for the same job?"

Press Fans Interested

All three Washington newspapers have devoted editorials, as well as extensive news coverage, to the political developments in the Empire State. This has fanned general interest.

Rep. Katharine St. George, Tuxedo Park Republican, was delighted last week to find herself temporarily recognized by Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) as the top Republican on the House Armed Services Committee.

Arriving early at a hearing before the group, Vinson greeted Mrs. St. George—who officially ranks as the No. 14 Republican on the committee's seniority list—by saying:

"Mrs. St. George is the first minority member here and when she came in I called the committee to order. So she will have the privilege of representing the minority as the banking member today."

Later, during the same session, Vinson defended an authorization of $181,000 for an aircraft wash rack for Robins Air Force Base, near his congressional district. He was asked by a minority member:

"Mr. Chairman, does it cost $181,000 to build a wash rack in your state?"

"Yes, sir," said the unabashed Vinson. "It's pretty good dirt down there."

Lake Katrine School to Graduate 20 Saturday Night

The second annual sixth grade graduation exercises will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the auditorium of the Lake Katrine School.

Twenty pupils will receive their diplomas from Principal Edward R. Crosby. Class teacher is Peter Dyshuk.

Van Auken to Speak

The principal address to the graduates will be delivered by Joseph Van Auken, elementary supervisor of the New Paltz Central School.

William J. Burke, president of the board of education, will make the address of welcome.

The class prophecy will be delivered by Patrick Hobert and class achievements will be reported by Norma Anderson. Mrs. Margaret D. Ennis, who taught in the school for 38 years, will present the Margaret D. Ennis Award. The name of the pupil who will receive this award was not announced.

The invocation and benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of Fair Street Reformed Church. The assembly will also sing the Star Spangled Banner.

There will be choir selections by the Lake Katrine School Band under the direction of Salvatore Castiglione.

ten, Bruce Bodine, Donald Boice, Joseph Golnek, Patrick Hobert, Lorissa Horbenko, Richard Koyon, David Lowe, Joyce Marola, Jeanne Mason, Paul Mula Jr., Timothy Murphy, Wayne Platte, Richard Rausch, Margaret Thomas, Donna Trahan, Robert Valyou, Daniel Villalobos and Frank Walsh.

Members of the board of education besides Burke are Joseph J. Benjamin, Norman Hammond, Miss Alice Krom and Robert Ohlson.

Members of the faculty:

Peter Dyshuk, 6th grade; Arthur J. Hartigan, 5th grade; Mrs. Joan Myer, 4th grade; Mrs. Theresa DeWitt, 3rd grade; Mrs. Virginia Pfeiffer, 2nd grade; Mrs. Margaret Ruff, 1st grade, and Miss Carol Mehm, kindergarten. Clarence A. Johnson is district superintendent of schools for Supervisory District No. 2, Ulster County.

SUMMER FURNITURE 20% OFF

This is your chance to stock up on the best items of Summer Furniture. Every item a wonderful buy and all from the well known manufacturers such as Bunting.

KAPLAN'S SALE IS A SALE!

Some feature perpetual "Anniversary Sales," others feature "Weekly Clearances" and still others offer "Daily Markdowns." Kaplan's customers have learned through the years that when Kaplan's run a sale — it is just that! It is unique in its meaning... it is held for the time ORIGINALLY advertised (no more — no less), the reductions are on regular merchandise and the values offered are real — not just hypothetical come-ons!

Our June Jubilee was planned in advance when the trend of customer buying was denoted. Our regular stock became in need of thinning out, one-of-a-kind items had to be disposed of, broken lots had to be cleared from our storerooms, floor models had to be removed from the premises, overbought items had to be done away with, and in general, our entire regular stock had to be put on a controlled basis for proper bookkeeping records. The only way we could accomplish this was to offer the public these fantastic furniture values. Each item is plainly marked with the regular selling price — and Kaplan's June Jubilee Price. We want the space... you want the values... Let's get together during our June Jubilee!

State Airman Ill With Sleeping Sickness

GARRATTSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)

A 20-year-old airman from this Otsego County hamlet is ill with sleeping sickness in Okinawa, his wife says.

Airman C.C. Richard A. Winters was stricken with the disease last Saturday, his wife, Barbara, said Tuesday night. It is called encephalitis.

Mrs. Winters wanted to fly immediately to her husband's bedside. A general in Washington told her the Air Force would fly her if it proved advisable, she said.

He promised that charts of her husband's condition would be sent regularly, Mrs. Winters added. The couple has a 7-month-old daughter, Jemmy.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
IT'S A TRUISM!

All citizens, industries and businesses should pay their fair share of the tax load. Some of us think that's enough, but it isn't. All taxes should be based upon EQUALITY, not INEQUALITY.

One outstanding industry is divided into two parts, one of which pays Federal income taxes; the other, no pay. I refer to the electric utilities industry.

The story was recently told to a House Committee by C. B. McManus, Chairman of The Southern Company. The tax-dodging, Government-owned power companies generate more than 23% of all electricity in this country. As McManus put it, "A situation where over 20 per cent of an industry escapes Federal income taxes" is a heck of a way to navigate a ship.

What about T.V.A. and Hoover Dam? They toss in only a few dimes in lieu of the heavy taxes which private companies must pay. Neighbor, maybe you just don't understand the darned situation. Who does?

Private utility companies are paying a 23 1/2 per cent tax out of every buck earned, of which 14.4 cents goes to the Federal Government and 9.1 cents to State and local governments.

The Income tax is the No. 1 plank of Karl Marx. It's the crack in the Constitution through which Socialism slithered into the "land of the free." It's the trough at which "Big Government" swills and grows fat.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Repressed Anger Emerges
As Real Pain in the Neck

For her birthday Mrs. C.'s sister had sent her an expensive flowered silk blouse. She'd worn it once for lunch in town with her husband and his most important business client.

She made this point when her 16-year-old daughter asked to borrow it. But Marge's resentful disappointment at her "No" made her feel guilty.

She could almost hear Marge thinking, "As you are old and I am young, your blouse would look nicer on me than it does on you. How mean you are not to lend it to me!" So she called Marge back to the kitchen and said she'd changed her mind.

That evening after Marge had left with her date, Mrs. C. became conscious of a pain in her shoulder. "It's my bursitis again," she told Mr. C. and went upstairs to apply a heating pad.

But even as the pad's warmth comforted her aching shoulder, her unfeeling anger at Marge's aggression was saying to her, "You are getting arthritis like your mother. In a couple of years you'll probably be crippled and helpless. Won't that be nice for John?"

For this is often the way unfeeling anger works in grownups. It torments children who dare not tell us how mad they are with bedtime fears of lions and werewolves. But when we dare not voice our anger at someone, it will torment us with grown-up visions of punishment by disease and other disasters.

Victorian ladies didn't know about this trick of forbidden anger. But Mrs. C. is not a Victorian lady and should know.

Though Elizabeth Barrett Browning had to spend years on a bed of pain experiencing the punishment she wished to give her father we don't have to. We don't have to emulate other maidens of her time who, denied the man they wanted, expressed their unfeeling rage by declining into imaginary diseases and retiring to the local graveyard.

Indeed, when we consider the number of Victorian ladies who resorted to invalid couches, fainting spells and graveyards whenever they got mad, we should think, "Though much is wrong with this 20th Century world, thank God it permits us to know when we're furious."

The pain in Mrs. C.'s shoulder is the pain she wants to inflict on Marge.

Strain Idles Curran

NEW YORK (AP) — A slight strain of a heart muscle has forced Thomas J. Curran, New York County Republican chairman, to curtail public appearances.

"This is not a coronary," Mrs. May Preston Davie, vice chairman, said Tuesday.

Mrs. Davie said she would take over his duties during his absence, although she and others at county headquarters are in touch with Curran on all important decisions. Curran, 58, is recuperating at his home.

The World Today

Key Point Is Goldfine Got Special Treatment

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine, millionaire friend of Sherman Adams, got special treatment which, under the law, no citizen is entitled to. That's the main point disclosed so far in the Adams-Goldfine case.

The White House—through presidential press secretary James Hagerty—said June 13 the real issue is whether the wealthy businessman got preferential treatment from a government agency as a result of his friendship with Adams.

Evidence Is There

There is no evidence that any agency ruled in favor of Goldfine because he was Adams' friend, but there is evidence he got confidential government information he could not have hoped to get without Adams' help.

The Goldfine and Adams families have been friends for years, at quite some expense to Goldfine. He paid more than $2,000 hotel bills for Adams, gave him a vicuna coat worth $69, and lent him a very expensive Oriental rug.

Goldfine, a textile manufacturer, got into trouble with the Federal Trade Commission for alleged mislabeling of his product. He went to see Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant.

Adams—in a letter to a House subcommittee investigating government agencies—said on June 12 that Goldfine came to him in 1953 with a letter from the Federal Trade Commission and asked what prompted it.

Will Summon Goldfine

(Why Goldfine, if he didn't want special treatment, didn't go directly to the FTC and ask that question hasn't been revealed yet because he has not been called before the committee to testify. He will be.)

Adams said he called FTC Chairman Edward F. Howrey and asked if the information Goldfine wanted could be made available. Then Adams in his letter said Howrey sent him a memorandum which he turned over to Goldfine. But when Adams himself went before the committee Tuesday, this is what the committee counsel, Robert Lishman, told him:

Double Violation

Howrey, in his memorandum to Adams, revealed the name of the company which had filed a complaint with the FTC against Goldfine. Lishman said disclosing such information was a double violation of:

1. The FTC's rules which require that the names of complainants in a case be kept confidential.
2. Federal law which prohibits revealing information in the FTC's files not already public. Since both an FTC rule and federal law were roadblocks to giving such information to a private individual—particularly a defendant in a case, like Goldfine—it seems certain he couldn't have gotten the information from the FTC himself.

Adams said he was unaware of both the rule and the law when he passed on Howrey's memorandum to Goldfine.

He said that if he committed errors they were perhaps the result of "inexperience." Adams, in politics since 1941, because of his job with Eisenhower is one of the most important men in the government.

Mrs. Cohn Named Library Head

Mrs. Hans Cohn has been elected president of the Woodstock Library Association.

Mrs. Cohn was designated by the board of directors after the annual membership meeting last week.

Other officers will be: Alf Evers, vice-president; Noelle Gillmore, secretary; Arthur Hansen, treasurer; and Mrs. George Laws, chairman of the finance committee.

Norbert Heermann, Alf Evers, Jay Alan, Thomas Dendy and Miska Petersham were all re-elected to the board of directors and Arthur Hansen was elected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Gertrude Robinson.

Graduation exercises for the Woodstock Elementary School will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the school auditorium.

Benjamin H. Matteson, retired former director of teachers training at New Paltz State Teachers College, will be the commencement speaker.

Eighteen pupils are eligible for graduation if they pass their examinations. Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen will be in charge of the program.

Talent Due at Festival Supper

An unusual combination of performing talent will be presented at the Woodstock Festival's 3rd annual buffet-supper and concert Saturday, June 21, at 6:30 p. m. at the Byrdcliffe Theatre.

The program will feature folk-singing by Barbara Moncre and The Marshalls; selections by Isabel Byman, pianist and Frank McLe, violinist; and members of the Turnout Opera Company, which opens its Woodstock season shortly, will offer operatic arias.

The festival committee promises that this year there will be ample food for all. Attendance so far exceeded expectation last year that, regrettably, the food supply ran short. The committee certainly intends to take care that this does not happen again.

This event has become the traditional launching affair for the festival summer season program of musical and other cultural events. Admission charge is $2.50; proceeds will go toward the festival fund to help continue the varied cultural activities in Woodstock not only during the summer season but all year round.

New Transport Hops Continent Under 18 Hours

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Border to border and coast to coast in 17 hours and 50 minutes.

That's the record of a Lockheed JetStar, a new utility transport plane.

The plane, piloted by Ray Goodey and Bob Schumacher, took off from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., shortly before midnight Monday. It touched down in Washington, Mass., and Florida before returning here Tuesday.

The actual flying time: 14 hours 50 minutes. Its average speed was 456 m.p.h. for the 6,700-mile flight.

The jet made stops at McChord AFB near Tacoma, Wash., Westover AFB near Chicopee Falls, Mass., and McCoy AFB near Orlando, Fla.

The Lydian Society of the Dutch Reformed Church is planning a bus trip to New York on Wednesday, Oct. 22. This day has been selected for the convenience of those who may wish to attend a matinee and the advance date is made so that there will be ample time to make ticket reservations. Reservations for the bus may be made through Mrs. William Hoffman or Mrs. Fred Toms.

Harry Temple, the Woodstock artist, has returned to home after several days in the Kingston Hospital.

The stage of the Woodstock School will be decorated for graduation by the Woodstock Garden Club Members of the club, who offer their services for this event each year, request donations of flowers and vines from all who can help. Please bring your flowers to the school gym on Friday morning, June 20.

The Woodstock Home Demonstration Unit will sponsor a bus trip to New York on Wednesday, June 25. The bus leaves Woodstock at 8 a. m. and returns from New York at 8 p. m. Elsie Ertz is handling reservations.

Nina Osipo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nina Osipo of Woodstock and Ken Gardens, and Carl R. Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Klein of Brooklyn, were united in marriage on Sunday, June 15, at the Tavern on the Green in Central Park.

The bride wore a white gown of silk. Poi De Soi with a chapel train. The gown was trimmed with Alincon lace and seed pearls. She wore a pearl crown with a fingertip veil and carried white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Helen Fisher of New York City. She wore red and white ballerina length gown and carried red and white carnations. The best man was Al Bronson.

The bride is a graduate of Forest Hills, L. I. High School and is now attending Queens College. The groom is a graduate of Syracuse University. He was in the Army for two years and is now in the advertising business.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in Lake Placid.

Upwards of 275 trade unionists in the Hudson Valley area are expected to attend the United Labor Dinner scheduled tonight at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie.

Sponsored by Victory Lodge 1598, International Association of Machinists, the dinner is planned to bring together all segments of labor in the area to hear prominent speakers from international headquarters of both the machinists and Office Employees International.

One of the main topics to be discussed will be the so-called "right to work" laws.

Representing the Kingston area will be delegates from Lodge 1562, I.A.M., headed by president Harold Longendyke; George E. Yerry Jr., president of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters and Thomas Mitchell, president of the Ulster-Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council.

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Two sections of a nearly finished six-lane bridge collapsed mysteriously Tuesday in a tangled mass of steel, plunging at least 16 workmen to their death.

Two others were missing and 22 injured.

It was 3:42 p. m. on a hot, sunny, windless afternoon when the two end sections of the 16-million-dollar Second Narrows Bridge over Burrard Inlet gave way without warning.

Forty construction workers were on the steel lacerwork of the pier-supported sections.

Women Keep Silent

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Gov. Dennis J. Roberts asked for questions from the floor following a speech to 1,200 women. After a long silence, Roberts, a bachelor, quipped: "That's my trouble. No girl ever asks me the question."

State Warms Up

Mercury Up After Hitting Freezing

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The temperature rose to more June-like levels in New York State today after sinking to freezing overnight.

For those still waiting to pull summer clothes and bathing suits out of the closets, the U. S. Weather Bureau had the welcome news that Thursday would be still warmer.

So far this month, chilly Canadian air has kept average readings well below normal across the state.

The Weather Bureau reported that in Albany the temperature through yesterday averaged 5.2 degrees below the normal average. Yesterday it was 14 degrees below normal.

Buffalo's average is 3 1/2 degrees below normal, New York City's 2 1-3 and Syracuse's 1 1/2 degrees. The official overnight low of 32 was reported at Oneonta.

Albany's 39 broke the low record of 43 set in 1950. Newburgh and Elmira equalled Albany.

Other lows reported by the Weather Bureau: Olean and Rome 38; Utica, 40; Glens Falls, Rochester and Massena, 41; Watertown and Syracuse, 42; Binghamton and Newburgh, 44; Buffalo, 46; Plattsburgh, 48, and LaGuardia Field in New York City, 55.

Church Leader Dies

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Alexandros III, 90-year-old Greek Orthodox patriarch of Antioch and the Entire East, died Tuesday.

The church's oldest leader had been operated on last Thursday for an abscess in the region of the appendix.

Since 1931 he had governed the Greek Orthodox community in Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and part of Turkey plus thousands of its members who had migrated to the United States and Latin America.

Says Britain Stalling

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union brusquely accused Britain today of stalling on talks to improve British-Soviet cultural, scientific and technical relations.

A Soviet letter to the government-sponsored British Council, broadcast by Moscow radio, said the Soviet government had approached the British with proposals for such talks three times since April 1957 but had yet to receive a clear-cut reply.

Some politicians, including Ives, feel that Farley, at 70, is too old to enter the Senate as a freshman.

Perhaps more important, some observers—chiefly Republicans—say Farley's views are not liberal enough to please Democratic candidate-pickers Averell Harriman and Carmine DeSapio.

Gov. Harriman is reported inclined toward Thomas K. Finletter, the former Air Force secretary. DeSapio, the Manhattan leader, still may build a draft for Wagner.

Wagner Emphatic

At his news conference in New York City, Wagner declared emphatically that he intended to stay on as mayor. He was elected only last year.

His latest disavowal came only a week after a Democratic State Committee poll showed Wagner the favorite for the nomination among Upstate county chairmen.

The Republican race is wide open since Ives decided not to seek a third term because of his health. Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester and Nelson A. Rockefeller have been mentioned as possibilities, but Rockefeller prefers to be governor, if he runs at all.

Only One Announced

Farley is the only announced candidate for the Senate from either party.

In an interview at Auburn, Farley said he was in the Senate race "to the finish."

He declined to make any estimate of his potential delegate strength, saying only there was "evidence of a lot of support all over."

Work of Police At Drum Show Draws Praise

A letter of appreciation from the Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps to the local police department praising its members for their work at the fourth annual Pageant of Champions held Saturday evening has been received by Acting Chief Robert F. Murphy.

The letter, signed by Spencer Myers, business manager of the Port Ewen corps, read as follows:

"We the members of the Port Ewen Drum Corps wish to express our thanks to you and your men for the cooperation given to us in the promotion of the fourth annual Pageant of Champions."

"We believe that at this year's show the work and efforts of the officers in the police department was outstanding. If it were not for efforts such as this the Pageant of Champions could not be the success that it is. Thank you again."

New Talks Fail In Release of 9

BERLIN (AP)—The United States ran into a deadlock with Communist East Germany today in negotiations to obtain the release of nine imprisoned U.S. Army men.

The U.S. mission in Berlin announced that the third round of talks at the East Berlin Foreign Ministry was unsuccessful. No date has been set for a further meeting.

The American prisoners—eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany—were seized by the Communists when their big helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain June 7 in a storm.

Boy Found Safe

Maid Is Sought In Kidnaping of Montreal Child

MONTREAL (AP)—Police today sought a German immigrant maid who disappeared when a millionaire's grandson was kidnapped Saturday night. The 2 1/2-year-old boy was found safe Tuesday.

The maid, blonde Greta Goede, 40, was hired by Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Reitman only two weeks before their son Joel was abducted from their home.

Note Warned of Deaths

A crudely written note left in the Reitman's suburban home said both the boy and the maid would be killed unless the family left $10,000 in a downtown Montreal bus terminal. The couple left the money and police staked out the terminal with plainclothesmen but no one appeared.

The boy turned up in the home of Edward Royer, a taxi driver in Ottawa, 100 miles west of Montreal. Royer said a blonde woman between 35 and 40 years old hailed his cab Monday. Speaking with a thick foreign accent and identifying herself as Mrs. Greta Braun, she asked him to mind her son while she shopped.

Fails to Appear

Royer took Joel home and notified police when the woman failed to show up as agreed Monday afternoon. Ottawa police did not identify the boy as Joel until Mrs. Reitman broadcast a radio appeal to the kidnaper Tuesday.

The Reitmans brought Joel home from Ottawa Tuesday night. He rushed happily into the arms of his grandfather Sam Reitman, president of a chain of 98 women's wear stores. Cyril Reitman is a buyer for his father's stores.

Nadlers and Ulster Electrics Open City League Thursday

Four-Team Loop Starts Belated Slate at Dietz

Nadler Motors and Ulster Electric launch the 1958 City Baseball League season Thursday at 7:15 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

If necessary, the contest will be completed under the stadium lanterns.

Jack Houghtaling and Frank Sammons have been named as Nadler battery.

Johnny Acker and Don Whitaker will go for the Ulsters.

Mapor Edwin F. Radel will throw out the first pitch.

Nadler Motors — Frank Sammons, Jerry Green, Ken Kouhoup, Ronnie Scheffel, Bill Haber, Steve Cea, Bob Bondar, Frank Secreto, Paul Giannuzzi, Ren Giannuzzi, Bob Graves, Don Ferraro, Joe Markle, Jack Houghtaling, Jim Ferraro, manager.

Jones Dairy — Bob Maines, Clark Mains, Bob Gorsline, Tom Carlinio, Bruce Hinkley, Bob Price, Bill Thomas, Jim Jackson, Nippy Jones, Bob Tice, John (Daisy) Schatzel, manager.

Ulster Electric — Don McCaig, Joe Benjamin, Jim Mackey, Don Herzog, Bill Olen, Don Mormile, Angelo Fondino, Joe Martin, John Mustion, Les Barringer, Don Whitaker, John Acker, Jack Watzka, manager.

Miceli Tough On Prospects

NEW YORK, (NEA)—There are several ways to ruin a promising fighter. But if he weighs in the neighborhood of 147 pounds one of the quickest ways to get the job done is by matching him with Joe Miceli.

Miceli, the veteran East Sider who bounces around the ring and throws a weird-looking left uppercut that has power, has made a career of ruining prospects.

Jay Fullmer, brother of Gene, is the latest. He was stopped in three by Miceli left hands in his first main event. The same fate happened to Wes Echols, stiffened in three in Richmond, Calif.

Steve Marcello, bright Providence boy, had the career taken out of him by Miceli. Stan Harrington, Honolulu favorite, was none the better after losing a decision.

Mollenhauers Win in Rondout

Arnie Smith allowed only three hits and struck out 10, as Mollenhauer Brothers Dairy trounced Elmendorf's Texaco, 8 to 1, yesterday in the Rondout Valley Babe Ruth League.

The winners collected seven hits off the combined offerings of O'Leary and Osterhoudt. The latter pitched well in relief of O'Leary, who was hampered by shoddy support.

Smith whiffed 10 and walked four, while Osterhoudt was downing six on strikes.

Sutherland rapped two singles for Mollenhauers. Larsen's double for the winners was the only extra base blow of the contest.

Pitcher's Best Friend...Runs

The best friend a pitcher can have is a big cluster of runs early.

This was very evident in last night's International League activity as the winning teams used the big inning to discourage their foes.

The Montreal Royals beat the Havana Sugar Kings 6-4. For six innings there were just three hits in the game. Montreal's Tom LaSorda had yielded one and Havana's Miguel Cuellar two. In the seventh the Royals got three runs.

In the bottom half the Sugar Kings exploded for four. Then the Royals came back with another three in the eighth to sew it up.

The Toronto Maple Leafs blanked the Miami Marlins 5-0. The Columbus Jets beat the Rochester Red Wings 7-2 and the Buffalo Bisons split a twin bill with the Richmond Virginians, winning the opener 1-0 and dropping the nightcap 7-2.

Jerry Oster projected his tenpin reputation from an area to state level with his brilliant victory in the New York State Bowling Proprietors Association match game tournament victory over the weekend.

Besides the $500 cash prize, he won a spot in the World Invitational in Chicago next fall. The 21-year-old ace also may receive an invitation to compete on one of the nationally televised bowling shows where further fame and cash would be at his command.

Oster trimmed a gilt edged field en route to the crown with a whopping 208 average for the 32-game route. His 1759 for the second seven-game block was championship bowling of the highest order. His back-to-back 279-278 were two of the highest games ever rolled in succession in Kingston in a major tenpin tournament.

Oster deserves a break on television and fans across the country would see a bright, new face with spectacular form. It might mean a bundle of cash for the Hudson valley star and another step toward the national recognition that he can't miss within the next few years.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Cornell University grads from Judge Schirick, Judge John M. Cashin down mighty happy over Marvin (Moose) Shaub's selection of Cornell University as his future stamping grounds for football and academics. Shaub, one of the finest all-round students ever to graduate from Kingston High, should make it big with the Big Red. . . . The Twaalfskill Club will have the official opening of its spanking new swimming pool Saturday at 5 p. m., preceding the steak roast. . . . Saugerties Dutchmen made two moves to bolster their sagging New York-New Jersey League franchise. First, Manager Jack Rivenbergh induced Bill Straub, the Saugerties High School coach, to confine all his team activities to catching and getting basehits, an art he has developed to a high degree. Then Jack signed John Mustion, former all-star at Rondout Valley, and Glen Kilgour, an infielder-outfielder who has been cavorting at Hartwick College. Mustion just competed the baseball season at Syracuse.

Of Men and Mice:

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schick, who managed the Kingston Colonials when they were the finest semi-pro team in the country, recently celebrated his 68th birthday. . . . Bernard A. (Bud) Culloton is making a fine recovery from his recent illness. A tripeheader has been scheduled for the District 8, Babe Ruth League tournament at Middletown on July 12. Port Jervis will meet Beacon in the opening game, Friday, July 11 at 5:30 p. m. The next day Warwick plays Harlem Valley. North Rockland takes on Nyack and Middletown meets Kingston in that order. The Kingston game is scheduled at 5:30 p. m. . . . Manager Sal Ciaacchio read the riot act to Kingston Yankees after their one-run loss at Staatsburg last Sunday. Ironically, a pair of balks figured one defeat and a tie for the locals. But the real problem is batting. When your No. 3 and No. 4 man go 10 for 0 in a tight ball game, you're hurtin'.

Tribute to a Lady and a Show:

The phenomenal growth of the Woodstock Riding Club's annual horse show indicates the time is not far off when it will be a two-day show. It becomes more difficult each year to satisfy the requests for additional classes and divisions and try to work it out in a one-day show, says Larry Swars, the show chairman, who also expressed his complete satisfaction with the current success and his appreciation to all who contributed in any way to make the 1958 show the greatest in history. In all the hurrahs, don't overlook the excellent work of Peg Hard, the public relations director for the show. Her job, year after year, is strictly tops.

Timer Misses Meet

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP)—The 1958 Arizona state high school track and field meet wasn't quite the same this year. Sam Mansfield, a timer in every meet since 1912, missed this one. He suffered a couple of broken ribs in an accident.

LewBurdette BackonBeam

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' Lew Burdette appears to be back in the groove again, hippity-hop and all.

As a matter of fact, his hippity-hop — a rabbit-like jump at the end of his follow through — probably is the reason.

Burdette Tuesday night notched his first complete game victory since May 22, downing the Chicago Cubs 6-3 with a nine-hitter.

The right-hander had taken a premature shower in eight of his nine previous starts, although in his last three outings he had shown unmistakable signs of shucking what ailed him.

Fifth Victory

The victory was his fifth, against four losses and put him slightly ahead of last year's pace. His record was 5-4 on June 21 a year ago when he finished up with a flurry to post a 17-9 mark and three decisions over the Yankees in the World Series.

Burdette, never an easy man to talk to whether in victory or defeat, claims he's the same Lew as last October.

First No-Hitter In NY-Penn Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cubert Smith of the Erie Sailors has chalked up the first no-hitter of the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League season.

The St. Albans, W. Va., right-hander hurled the Sailors to a 1-0 victory over visiting Auburn last night in the 7-inning opener of a twin bill.

The shattered Yankees took a 14-4 bombing in the winning second game. Will Risser's bases-loaded double in the fifth was the Sailors' big blow.

Geneva uncorked four home runs to subdue Wellsville, last year's champions, 14-7 at Geneva.

The four-baggers were hit by Ray Griesheimer, Dave Bristol, Fred Ramirez and Dick Snider. Snider's was worth four runs.

Ray Withro fired a bases-loaded homer in the fifth for the Braves. Bill Halter thrilled a merchant's night crowd of 3,400 at Corning with a two-run homer in the eighth that tied and won the Red Sox game with Olean 5-4. It was Halter's third homer in the last four games.

Batavia carved out a marathon 7-6 victory over Elmira in a 13-inning meeting that took three hours, 45 minutes.

Cooney Weiland, former National Hockey League star who directed Harvard to five straight Ivy League hockey titles, has been granted the honorary athlete H.

Adios Day and Adios Chief at Goshen July 3

GOSHEN — Adios Day and Adios Chief, one and two at Roosevelt Raceway in the $34,900 Hopeful Stake Friday, will be seen in action here at Historic Track on Thursday, July 3 in the Goshen Two-year-Old Pace.

Ned Bower drove Adios Day to victory for Hugh Grant of Bradford, Pa. Bower, now with the Del Miller Stable, won from Adios Chief, owned by C. M. Provost of Pittsburgh, Pa. and reined by Mr. Miller.

Adios Day raced, passed the Chief in the stretch to win in 2:06 1-5.

He is a chestnut colt by Adios, son of the world's champion and $500,000 Adios who now stands at stud at Miller's Meadow Lands Farm.

More than 51 horses were entered in the Goshen Pace and a large field is expected to head postward during the 1958 Grand Circuit meeting which opens here on Monday, June 30.

Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford equalled an American League record when he struck out six straight batters in a 1956 game against Kansas City. He repeated the performance June 2, 1958, against the White Sox.

Winston-Salem's Vern Benson and Durham's Charles Kress, Carolina League managers, were teammates on the 1953 Rochester International League pennant winning Red Wings.

Ryne Duren Curbed Wildness To Achieve Major Spotlight

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Rinold (Ryne) Duren, the newest bullpen sensation of the New York Yankees, almost overnight became the most exciting pitcher in the major leagues.

Why? How?

Bill DeWitt, former president of the St. Louis Browns, who had Duren originally, thinks it's because he has finally curbed his wildness.

Ralph Houk, Yankee coach for whom Duren won 13 while losing two at Denver, thinks he has gained confidence.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel thinks the switch from a starter to a relief specialist has brought out the best in his prize rookie.

Thanks O'Doul Helped

The bespectacled Duren believes it was the tutelage of Frank (Lefty) O'Doul at Vancouver in 1956 that is responsible.

"Lefty took great pains with me," Duren explains. "He was patient and understanding. He showed me the value of moving the ball, of placing the pitch in so many areas of the strike zone. I had a terrible first half season at Vancouver, losing seven of my first nine decisions. With his help, I was able to win nine of the last 13."

Duren, 29, considered excess baggage in the Billy Martin-Harry Simpson trade of a year ago, wasn't given much of a chance to stick with the Yankees this year. But Stengel, apparently sensing that Bob Grim had had it, decided to gamble with Duren in relief.

Duren has pitched 26 2-3 innings permitted only 15 hits, struck out 40 and walked only 13. His earned run percentage of 1.33 doesn't tell half the story. Besides his three victories, he has saved eight games.

Vols and Elks Register Wins in Babe Ruth Loop

Van Wagenen Has Four-Hit Stint

Volunteer Firemen trounced the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 10-4, in the first game of Tuesday's Babe Ruth League double-header at Dietz Stadium.

Elks Lodge staged a late surge to overcome the Knights of Columbus, 5 to 2, after trailing 2-0 going into the bottom of the fifth.

The Vets outthrew the Vols, 9 to 7, but never regained its touch after yielding six runs in the first inning. Sickler won the decision over Bream. Both pitchers went the distance, Sickler striking out seven and Bream whiffing 10.

Brookie of the Vols hit a single and triple and Boice had a single and double. Clausi's two singles paced the Vets.

Van Wagenen Wins

Danny Van Wagenen of the Elks limited the Knights to four hits to gain the decision over Mike Ferraro and Vince Smedes, who gave up six hits. Ferraro struck out nine.

Wayne Reynolds' two-run double in the bottom of the fifth when the Elks scored three times iced the contest. It was the only extra base blow of the game.

Officials Think New Bill Would Help Pro Sports

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball officials declared their support today for a new sports bill that would give professional team sports some flat exemptions from the antitrust laws.

But one club officer, who has called baseball big business and disputed Commissioner Ford Frick several times questioned whether the proposal would solve all the sport's practical problems.

Tax attorney C. Lee De Orsey, a director of the Washington Senators, said for one thing that proposed self-regulation of major league telecasts may not effectively protect the minors from ruinous losses at the gate.

"I don't know that the clubs by themselves will agree not to compete with the minors via television," De Orsey told a reporter. Self-control of radio and TV broadcasts is one of the specific references in legislation introduced Tuesday by Representatives Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), William E. Miller (R-NY), Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) and Oren Harris (D-Ark). They also proposed excluding from antitrust regulation such practices as player trades and drafts, the contract reserve clause tying a player to his team, and territorial rights.

Pro Sports Affected
The measure would affect pro baseball, football, basketball and ice hockey. So would the original measure by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), which proponents of the substitute hope to knock out when the subject comes before the full House—probably next week.

Celler's bill has been approved by a thin majority of the House Judiciary Committee, which he heads. It would exempt contracts and agreements found "reasonably necessary" to keep the sports alive. Celler said the substitute would

Par Adamant in Kansas Tourney

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Match play begins today in the Trans-Mississippi Men's Amateur Golf Tournament, and the players were hoping to get better acquainted with the course.

Some have done pretty well in practice rounds but nobody shot par in qualifying tests on the 6,526-yard par 35-35-70 Prairie Dunes course Tuesday.

Medalists were Bill Hird of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex. They had identical 37-34-71 scores.

The cut-off point for the 64-man championship flight was 13-over-par 83. Five players had 84s and went into a playoff for two berths in the title flight. Jerry Krause of Kansas City and Howard Carey Jr., Hutchinson, had pars on the first hole and gained the spots.

Defending champion Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., didn't have to qualify, but he showed he was the man to beat when he turned in a practice 69.

gave club owners a blank check to act as they please, even engage in "barbarous" activities to the detriment of players and the public alike.

Frick, in New York, said baseball could support the new bill. Paul Porter, an attorney for the majors, said in Washington it is something "everybody can live with."

Quarter Finals In Women's Golf

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Clifford Ann Creed and Ann Rutherford were paired today in the feature match of the quarter-finals of the Women's National Collegiate Golf Tournament.

Miss Creed is a 19-year-old representing Lamar Tech, Beaumont, Tex., who won medalist honors. Miss Rutherford of Penn State, whose father is the golf coach there, was a semifinalist in the 1957 tournament.

Both came up with impressive first round victories Tuesday. Clifford Ann was a 3 and 2 winner over Jean Ashley of the University of Kansas and 22-year-old Miss Rutherford eliminated Elaine Woodman of Wichita University 4 and 2.

St. Peter's (R) Swamp St. Mary's

St. Peter's of Rosendale blanked St. Mary's in a CYO midget baseball game Monday by a 15-0 score behind the one-hit pitching of J. Eineman. The winners garnered nine hits off Elmendorf. The lone safety was a single by Chuck Davide. Sonsine and O'Leary had two hits apiece for the winners.

Pete Goldfarb Fans Sixteen

The Hawks' brilliant pitcher, Pete Goldfarb, turned in another classic in yesterday's Jaycee Little League contest.

Goldfarb allowed only one hit and struck out 16 of a maximum 18 batters, as the Hawks routed the Jays, 13 to 2, for their seventh win in 10 games.

A single by Johnson deprived Goldfarb of his no-hitter. The winners had 12 hits.

A series of triples featured the Hawks' attack on an assortment of Jays pitchers.

Prisco rapped a pair of three baggers, while Bach and Stephano hit one each. The winners scored seven runs in the fourth.

Score by innings:

Jays 100 100—2	1

Tribe's Robbins Blanks Yankees

Paul Robbins of the Indians shut out the Yankees, 10 to 0, on three hits in the Esopus Legion Little League.

Robbins allowed only three hits, fanned 15 and walked only three to gain the verdict over Bob Rinehart, who was nicked for seven hits. Rinehart fanned seven.

Tom Auringer was the leading batsman with a single and double for the Indians. Jay Tremper rapped two singles and Robbins aided his own cause with a double.

J. Colicuz with two singles and Rinehart with one accounted for the three Yankee hits. The Indians finished their day's work hit by R. Peterson, C. Murphy and D. Godbey.

Dodgers Blast AL Giants, 25-3

The American Little League Dodgers picked up only 10 hits off Misasi and Dougherty of the Giants, but there must have been a lot of walks and errors sometime during the game.

The Dodgers won it by the lopsided score of 25 to 3, scoring in every turn at bat and racking up eight runs in the third inning.

Smith, the winning pitcher, checked the Giants with only two hits and struck out 10.

Ronnie Thomas led a parade of doubles with two for the Dodgers. He added a single for a "3 for 3" stint. Van Eiten and Red Smith each had two hits, the latter hitting a triple. Karl Scholl doubled for the Giants and Frasch came up with two Dodger singles.

Score by innings:

	R	H
Giants 020 001—3	2
Dodgers 358 363—25	10

Misasi, Dougherty and Scholl; Red Smith and Frasch.

EK Braves Slam Giant Nine, 10-1

Eddie Bovelli permitted eight hits but didn't allow a run until the last inning, as the Braves whipped the Giants, 10 to 1, in the East Kingston-Glasco Little League.

Bovelli fanned eight. The Braves picked up only eight blows off Jack Watzka, but Giant miscues swelled their total. Watzka had seven strikeouts.

Dom Berardi was the leading hitter with a double and two singles for the Braves. Ed Kovac rapped a single and double and Serravalle also doubled.

Pete Watzka and Joe Clausi hit two singles each for the Giants.

Score by inning:

J. Watzka and Joe Clausi; E. Bovelli and John Crispino.

Shults Indians Top Braves, 5-2

Shults Paint Indians rallied for three runs in the fifth inning to edge the Canfield Electric Braves, 5 to 2, in the National Little League yesterday.

Vince Fisher went the route for the Indians, yielding three hits and striking out five. The Indians had eight hits off Joe Nalepa, who whiffed one.

Top hitters for the Indians were Marshall Suskie with two singles and Larry Marcus with a double. Wayne Bock had two singles for the Braves.

Score by innings:

	R	H
Braves 100 001—2	3

Vince Fisher and Jim Costello; Joe Nalepa and Jay Hogan.

Cincinnati pitcher Bob Purkey is well ahead of his 1956 record with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League. He completed 5 of 14 starts that year.

Steve Bilko of the Cincinnati Redlegs struck out 105 times but drew 104 bases on balls for the 1956 Los Angeles Angels. He hit 55 home runs that season.

Keed and Bahama Fight in Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan makes what may be his last middleweight appearance tonight in a 10 round encounter with Yama Bahama.

Gavilan, veteran contender from Camaguey, Cuba, is trimming down for a return to the welter ranks after a series of fights in the heavier bracket.

The 32-year-old Kid pits the experience gained in a 106-29-6 record against the comparative youth of Bahama, 25-year-old Bimini fishing guide. Bahama has won 48, lost 8 and had one draw. He's riding a current three-bout winning streak.

The fight will be televised nationally (by ABC) starting at 10 p. m. (EDT).

College Coach Raps Trend in Baseball

OMAHA (AP) — Professional baseball "will go broke" if it continues the trend of signing undergraduate players to huge bonus contracts, Coach Charles Maher of Western Michigan University said today.

"And it's ruining college baseball," he added. "The worst thing is that it deprives a boy of an education."

Maher and three other coaches who brought teams to the NCAA College World Series were in agreement steps should be taken to curtail signing of players with college years remaining.

"A boy is going to show in college if he has major league potential," Maher said. "This would save the pros money."

A 40 per cent increase in filter tips more than offset a 10 per cent decline in nonfilters, but also accounted for a drop in quantity of tobacco utilized—100 million pounds less than 1952. Per capita consumption (number of cigarettes made divided by total population 15 years old and over) was slightly below the 1952 high.

Penn Is Choice For Big Regatta

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The men who should know choose Pennsylvania and Cornell to finish 1-2 in the 56th annual Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. Regatta here Saturday.

In a poll of coaches of eight of the 10 competing schools, the Quakers collected 74 points, while Cornell totaled 70. Syracuse University, with 67 points, was listed third in the three-mile championship on Onondaga Lake.

Only Joe Burk of the Quakers and Ky Elbright of California's Golden Bears declined to vote.

Burk said since his crew was the favorite, he would "pass." Elbright said he had not seen enough of the other entries.

The voting was conducted on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, and on down the scale.

Trailing in the coaches' ratings were Navy, California, Dartmouth, and MIT.

Penn and Cornell received three first-place votes each while Syracuse topped two ballots.

Although Cornell's defending champions have failed to win a race this season, rowing experts claim the Big Red is "better than its record."

The Quakers also topped the voting in the junior varsity race, followed by Navy and Cornell.

The coaches called a tie in the frosh two-mile between Cornell and Penn. Each received 67 votes.

DETERMINED—Ralph Colla, Jr., had a grim look and a sound swing as he went after his second National Pee Wee Championship over the Dubedread Country Club course in Orlando, Fla. The Youngstown, O., youth won the cup in 1956.

Burdette Regains Fine Touch Ford Checks Yankees' Slump

World Series Ace Goes Distance To Beat Cubs, 6-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Low Burdette, the hero of the 1957 World Series with three complete game victories in an eight-day span, now has two in four weeks, but that long-sought second one has hoisted the Milwaukee Braves into a 2½-game National League lead—their biggest bulge of the season.

The crewcut right-hander went all the way for the first time in six starts since May 22 Tuesday night. He stayed out of serious trouble with a nine-hitter as the Braves beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3.

Second-place San Francisco, the only other club to get as far as 2½ games ahead this year, was shipped 6-1 at Pittsburgh. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pirates in jumping past the Redlegs for a third-place tie, just two games behind San Francisco.

Burdette (5-4) walked but one and struck out four. He gave up a first-inning run—on singles by Tony Taylor, Al Dark and Lee Walls, who had seven of the Cubs' nine hits among them—then blanked Chicago on three hits until the eighth. Bobby Thomson tagged him for his eighth homer with two out in the ninth.

Frank Torre, Johnny Logan and Harry Hanebrink each drove in two runs for the Braves. A bases-loaded walk and Hanebrink's two-run single bagged it in a three-run fifth against Moe Drabowsky, now 4-7.

Ted Kluszewski, who was 3-for-4, Ramon Mejias and Bill Virdon each hit triples in a five-run Pirate second against loser Johnny Antonelli (6-5). Rookie Curt Raydon gave up a first-pitch home run to Felipe Alou, then blanked the Giants on eight hits.

Ken Boyer smacked a pair of home runs for the Cardinals, his 14th capping a six-run ninth after the Cards had blown a 3-0 lead. Joe Cunningham's three-run triple cracked a 4-4 tie in the ninth against losing reliever Willard Schmidt. Stan Musial followed with a triple and then Boyer blasted off. Reliever Phil Paine won his third.

The Phils scored six runs in the eighth, before the Dodgers retired a man, to overhaul a 5-3 Los Angeles lead. The tie breaking and winning runs scored on a wild throw by losing reliever Clem Labine (3-2). Jack Sanford won it.

Ace Southpaw Blanks Indians On Four Hits, 4-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That new born "race" in the American League still is struggling to stay alive.

With the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox on the move at last, things are looking up—if you can shrug off the fact the New York Yankees have padded their lead by one game while losing 8 of 14.

Southpaw Whitey Ford won his seventh in a row with a three-hitter that beat Cleveland 4-0 Tuesday night as the Yankees ended their losing slump at four and junked their shutout string at 24 innings.

The Tigers moved into fourth place with a 9-2 victory over Washington. The Senators dropped into eighth place as Detroit won its fifth in a row and seven in eight starts under new manager Bill Newman, who took over a last-place club a week ago.

Southpaw Billy Pierce squared his record at 5-5 and gave the White Sox staff its third consecutive shutout with a five-hitter that beat Boston 4-0. That made it four straight for Chicago, now in sixth place, while leaving the second-place Red Sox eight games behind New York.

Kansas City missed a chance to take second, losing 4-1 to Baltimore. Ford, 8-2, struck out 10 and walked but two while giving up singles to Mickey Vernon, Rocky Colavito and Minnie Minoso. The Yankees broke loose after being blanked by Ray Narleski for five innings on one hit, Hank Bauer's bunt single.

In the sixth, Yogi Berra knocked in a run. Then Bill Skowron put it away with a three-run homer. Ozzie Virgil was 5-for-5 and Frank Bolling and Al Kaline rapped homers for the Tigers, back in the first division for the first time since May 15 and now within a game of second place.

Virgil had two singles and Kaline's sixth homer counted three runs in a seven-run third against loser Pete Ramos. Southpaw Billy Hoelt (6-5) won it.

Pierce gave up only two singles over the last seven innings. Ex-Tiger Ray Boone singled home a run in his White Sox debut in the first inning against loser Dave Sisler (6-3). Billy Goodman drove in two runs and Pierce one.

The Orioles cut their scoreless slump at 28 innings on Gus Triandos' single, two errors and Billy Gardner's sacrifice fly in a two-run fifth against loser Ray Herbert (2-2). Billy O'Dell (7-7) gave up only five hits and had a two-hit shutout for six innings.

Silky Sullivan, Remember? He Is Still Much Alive

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) —

Silky Sullivan, remember him?

To the horse player, an unsentimental soul whose affection for a horse rests entirely on a $2 bet, Silky is...well, to quote one:

"Silky Sullivan? He's dead."

Dead: Well, not quite.

Oh! Silky is very much alive. He gallops each morning at Hollywood Park. He'll race again in a week or so. And, as usual, he'll probably lag 30 or 40 lengths behind the front runner, try to catch him and give his admirers heart trouble whether he does or not.

Silky still has his followers, mostly the non-betting variety, even if he did run a disgraceful 12th in the mud in the Kentucky Derby and eighth in the Preakness.

Says Silky's understanding trainer, Reggie Cornell:

"Silky ran 'way back in the Kentucky Derby. But he must have a record. I think every school kid in Louisville had his picture taken with Silky."

Silky still gets fan mail from all over the nation.

Maybe you've forgotten, but Silky did win a big one. That was the $100,000 add Santa Anita Derby in March. He beat the best out here and did it from 30 lengths back or so back in true Silky manner.

"No," says Cornell, "Silky won't every lay any closer to the pace—and I don't intend to change him."

Silky's fans, whether he wins or loses, would have it no other way.

Oil Irks Tulsans, Finally Get Water

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — "But I don't want an oil well, all I want is a water well," a Tulsan complained as oil oozed over his back yard.

The unwanted discovery touched off excitement among the drillers and neighbors, but George Sharp exclaimed, "Oh, no." His wife concurred:

"There doesn't seem to be enough oil to amount to anything, and even if there were, I can't wash my dishes in oil."

Workers drilled deeper and water was found at 200 feet.

Joe Talks, But He's No Cop Squealer

DENVER, (AP)—The cops are disgusted with Joe the mynah bird who talks but won't squeal.

Joe was stolen May 25 from his cage in the city park zoo. Tuesday he was found in the home of a Denver man, who explained he had bought Joe for $35. He had a sales receipt.

Joe was given the third degree by detective Merle Huttenhower.

"What's your name?" Huttenhower asked. "What's yours?" Joe replied.

"What've you got to say?" asked Huttenhower. "Nothing," answered Joe.

Now Joe is back in the zoo and talking a blue streak as usual—and as usual it's all irrelevant and immaterial.

Vicious Pike

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., (AP) —

Walter Stone caught a 26-inch pike while fishing in Aquia creek and tossed it into the boat.

The fish grabbed a rubber gas-line line in his teeth and punctured it, shortening the fishing trip.

Trade Mark Reg. By Juntus

Some time after the conclusion of the revolution, a young American was present in a British playhouse, where an interlude was performed in ridicule of his countrymen. A number of American officers being introduced in tattered uniforms, and barefoot, the question was put to them severely: "Wh-- was your trade before you entered the army?" One answered a tailor, another a cobbler, etc. The wit of the piece was to banter them for not keeping themselves in clothes and shoes, but before that could be expressed, the American exclaimed from the gallery: "Great Britain beaten by tailors and cobblers! Hurrah!" Even the Prime Minister, who was present, could not help smiling, amidst a general peal of laughter.

Auntie—Ah, my dear. You will find that Time is a great healer.

Girl—True, auntie. But he's certainly a mighty poor beauty doctor.

There's no such thing as a dangerous woman—only susceptible men.

Charles (coming from school)—I'm like Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson—

Pop—Why?

Charles—I went down in history.

Mrs. Hector Combs, 50, of Craigville, Minn., has 33 living grandchildren, all of them single births.—Mrs. A. C. LaTrace, Bigfork, Minn.

Jim—Have you ever looked at a woman who made you wish you were single again?

Tim—Many times.

Jim—Who?

Tim—My wife.

Maude—The ring of sincerity was in his voice when he told me of his love.

May—It should have been in his hand. A ring in the hand is worth two in the voice.

Did you know that a flatterer will say things to your face that he wouldn't dare tell anybody else?

Sad fact of life—If it weren't for divorce, some couples wouldn't even get married.

More Cool Weather Is Due by Weekend

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York—A warming trend at the beginning will be followed by cooler the latter half of the period. Temperatures are expected to average 4 to 8 degrees below normal. Scattered light showers are likely Friday and possibly into Saturday. Total precipitation will average one-quarter of an inch or less.

Western New York—Continued cool weather appears to be the best indication. Temperatures are expected to average several degrees below normal. Warmer with showers developing tomorrow, followed by clearing and cooler Friday. Generally fair and continued cool over the weekend. Less than one-half inch of rain is expected.

Temperature Normals—Normal temperatures for Upstate New York now range from early morning lows in the 50s to afternoon highs in the 70s and low 80s.

Outlook Bleak In Ship Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Shipowners and striking marine engineers resume contract talks today with little hope of a quick settlement.

After a two-hour conference Tuesday, Herbert L. Daggett, national president of the striking Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, told reporters:

"We are pretty far apart as of now, and as of now there is no settlement in view. What they offered us is unacceptable from our point of view."

Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, who heads the shipowners committee, agreed the outlook was bleak.

The strike is in its third day on the east and Gulf coasts. The walkout of 1,700 engineers directly affects 294 ships.

Another 186 ships are affected because the companies that operate them follow the contract pattern set by the union and the 23 ship operators represented by the institute.

The engineers demand improved vacation benefits, wage increases, pension and welfare benefits and a job-security clause in case of ship transfers.

Present wages range from $493 to $1,052 a month.

Businessmen Buy Village in Maine

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—A group of 19 greater Boston businessmen purchased Quoddy Village at Eastport, Maine, for $250,000.

The sale was announced Tuesday night by Sidney W. Grossman, president of L. Grossman Sons, which has owned the community since 1950.

The village, which has 200 buildings on 142 acres, was built by the federal government 20 years ago when work began on the original Passamaquoddy tidal power project.

The new owners, incorporated as Quoddy Village Corp., say they will develop the area for recreation, light industry and low-cost retirement homes.

The Roosevelt administration initiated a tidal project in Passamaquoddy Bay during the late 30s. This brought about establishment of Quoddy Village.

The tidal power project eventually was abandoned, only to be revived recently by joint action of the United States and Canada to determine if electricity can be generated economically by harnessing the bay's tremendous tides.

GOP Chairmen Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican state chairmen from throughout the nation met today for a three-day campaign school aimed at strengthening GOP organization for the November elections.

Among other things, the 48 state chairmen will be given demonstrations in new campaign techniques. Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said the school will feature demonstrations by specialists in radio and television, direct mail advertising and fund raising.

New Custom at School

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—A new custom has been established at the city's Willow Hill School. Officials say that each year the student with the highest grades will be allowed to ring the old school bell which has not been sounded for years.
